TEDDY AND WILSON CARRY NEW JERSEY

Each Wins Sweeping Victory In State Presidential Primaries.

PRESIDENT IS BADLY BEATEN

Roosevelt and Governor Wilson Get 22 Delegates Out of 28—Opponents Concede Their Defeat — Campaign is Now Over.

THE LATEST RETURNS

Newark, N. J., May 29.—Indications based on fairly conclusive returns are that Theodore Roosevelt has won all the 28 delegates elected today at the New Jersey primaries.

Incomplete returns from every district indicate that Governor Wilson will get the delegates at large and at least 18 of the 24 district delegates, giving him a total of twenty-two.

Newark, N. J., May 29.—One of the most sweeping victories Theodore Roosevelt has won in the primaries since he began his campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination was recorded yesterday by the Republican voters of New Jersey. Indications based on incomplete returns are that Col. Roosevelt carried every Congressional district in the State as well as the State at large and that all the 28 delegates who will go to Chicago will be Roosevelt men.

Governor Wilson won his own State against a strong opposition headed by his political enemies with the State, appears to have 24 of the 28 delegates, including the delegates at large.

Col. Roosevelt's indicated plurality on the preferential vote is 10,000.

Senator LaFollette made a showing in every county, but his vote as far as counted indicated that he would not get more than 2 per cent. of the total.

Newark, N. J., May 29.—Theodore Roosevelt's victory in the New Jersey primary election is conceded by the leaders of the State Taft organization. Shortly after midnight, E. W. Gray, secretary of the Taft Business Men's League, said that Colonel Roosevelt probably had won the four delegates at large and also the 10 district delegates from the counties of Essex and Hudson, which comprise the cities of Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken, besides a number of the most populous suburban towns.

Indications at 1 A. M., based on scattered returns from all parts of the State, were that Colonel Roosevelt would carry three or four of the other districts and capture at least 22 of the 28 delegates this State will send to the Republican National Convention.

Governor Wilson's opponents had to be satisfied with the strong showing they made in Essex county, the stronghold of former Senator James S. Smith, Jr., and former Democratic State Committeeman James R. Nugent. Indications at 1 A. M. were that Wilson delegates had been elected for the State at large and in all but two of the districts. The Newark Star, which is owned by Former Senator Smith, conceded Governor Wilson's success last night, but said that the opposition probably would elect six district delegates in Essex and Hudson counties.

Any delegates elected not pledged to Governor Wilson will go to the convention uninstructed.

The official count in the 1,799 election districts of the State accumulated slowly last night. The 315 districts that reported first on the votes for delegates at large gave no indication of the actual results of the primaries. The figures on these districts, a little more than a sixth of the total, were:

Taft, 9,220; Roosevelt, 10,150; LaFollette, 315.

Figures on the Presidential preferential vote were practically the same. At the same time Borden D. Whiting, chairman of the Republican Progressive League, estimated Colonel Roosevelt's plurality in the whole State at 12,000.

"I believe," said Chairman Whiting, "that Colonel Roosevelt will have every one of the 28 delegates elected in this State."

He declared that the Sixth Congressional district was the only one about which he had any doubt and he felt practically certain that his also would go to Roosevelt.

Under the New Jersey law 28 delegates to the Republican and Democratic conventions were chosen today, two delegates in each of the 12 Congressional districts and four delegates at large, the latter being elected by the vote of the whole State. The voters also had the privilege of expressing their personal preference for Presidential candidates, although this result had no effect upon the division of delegates.

The New Jersey election was the last to be preceded by a sweeping campaign by all the Republican Presidential candidates. Its importance was emphasized also because only one more State, South Dakota, remains to

BIG SENSATION IS PROMISED

Wickersham Says Government's Suit Against the Southern Pacific Has Developed Startling Disclosures.

Washington, May 28.—In a public statement, Attorney General Wickersham today declared that the government's suit against the Southern Pacific companies for the recovery of valuable oil lands in Southern California, has developed "sensational and startling disclosures." Testimony by witnesses subpoenaed by the government, he says, "presents a remarkable picture of criminal conspiracy among high officials of the Southern Pacific Company to acquire from the United States under an agricultural grant, oil lands valued at $15,000,000.

The statement was issued after a conference between the Attorney General and Willis N. Mills, his special assistant in charge of the case, concerning recent important developments in the suit. The proceedings were instituted by direction of Mr. Wickersham in December, 1910, to set aside patents and revest in the government title to 6,000 acres of valuable oil bearing lands in the Elk Hills country of the McKittrick oil district, Kern county, Cal.

The government lawyers are confident, the statement declares, that the disclosures made by the testimony of Charles W. Eberlein "will result in the restoration to the public domain of a vast tract of the most valuable oil lands in the State of California."

As acting land agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the statement alleges, Mr. Eberlein "saved from the conflagration following the San Francisco earthquake all the secret correspondence and documents relating to the conspiracy to defraud the government out of these lands."

Upon being placed on the stand, the statement continues, Mr. Eberlein "produced correspondence between himself and the late W. D. Cornish, vice president of the Southern Pacific Company and C. H. Markham, general manager of the Southern Pacific Company, fully establishing previous knowledge on the part of the railroad company officials of the mineral character of the land selected and indicating an intention to keep the fact from the government officials until after patents should be secured."

CONDITION OF STATE BANKS

Corporation Commission Issues Statement—Elkin & Alleghany

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 28.—The Corporation Commission issued a summary today of the condition of State, private and savings banks at the close of business April 18th, showing resources aggregating $71,331,067.80. The aggregate capital is $9,419,788, the surplus, $2,563,243 and the undivided profits, $2,232,737. The deposits aggregate $53,121,754. A comparison of the summaries of condition April this year and March last year, shows that deposits have increased for the year $6,270,032. Capital stock has increased $219,031, surplus fund $300,500 and undivided profits $219,488. The total increase of resources for the year has been $8,231,977.

The construction work of the Elkin & Alleghany Railroad had a considerable set back the past week through one of the heaviest rainfalls that the Elkin-Roaring Gap section of Western Carolina ever experienced. The new road bed was terribly washed in many places and one big trestle, the one just out from Elkin, was completely swept away. The train service that has been put on between Elkin and Normans had to be annulled for four days. It will take some time yet to restore the trestle to a permanent basis. The grading of the road is being pushed now from Normans to Roaring Gap and Sparta, the latter being about 30 miles distant by the surveyed railroad line. However, Sparta is only 17 miles distant by way of the dirt road.

The Hotel Bland is to have its one hundred and more rooms ready for service by the time the State Democratic Convention comes to Raleigh, June 6th. The dining room will not be running by that time. The Bland is showing up as one of the finest hotels in this part of the country.

BLUE AND GRAY CELEBRATE.

60,000 Veterans to Assemble on Battlefield of Gettysburg.

Washington, May 28.—Civil War veterans representing nearly every State in the Union are gathered in Washington to discuss plans for the Blue and Gray celebration of the 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg and to urge upon Congress the passage of the proposed peace jubilee bill.

The veterans are here as guests of the Pennsylvania Gettysburg commission. If the plans materialize 60,000 old soldiers will meet on Gettysburg field next year, to "re-fight" the bloody epoch-making battle of 1863.

DR. MARTIN ELECTED

Charlotte, N. C., May 28.—Dr. W. J. Martin, professor of Science of Davidson College, was tonight elected president of the institution, succeeding Dr. Henry Louis Smith, who goes to Washington and Lee as president.

TWO DELEGATIONS NAMED IN TEXAS

Taft-Roosevelt Fight Results In Holding of Twin Conventions.

SPLIT OVER REPRESENTATION

Taft Forces Refused to Abide by the Method of Vote Apportionment and Held Their Meeting in Another Hall.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 28.—The Roosevelt-Taft fight in Texas resulted today in the holding of two conventions here, the Taft followers refusing to participate in the State convention which the Roosevelt forces dominated. Each convention elected eight delegates at large to the Republican National Convention with alternates and electors and each endorsed its favorite State and National leader, the Taft supporters including H. F. MacGregor in its endorsement for National committeeman and the Roosevelt convention offering its support to Cecil A. Lyon.

Lyon, who is now National committeeman from Texas, is leader of the Roosevelt forces in Texas, and MacGregor is the President's campaign manager in the State.

The Roosevelt convention, which held forth at the place chosen by the executive committee for the State convention, claimed 169 counties of the 249 were represented with a vote of 171 1-2 in the first poll taken. The Taft supporters claimed to have 203 counties represented with a vote, based on a representation of one vote for every 100 votes cast for Taft in 1908, of 1,014. One of the purposes of the convention held by the Taft men was to establish this basis of representation. The leaders contend that the opportionment made by the executive committee, which allows one vote for each of the 249 counties in the State, with the exception of three, which are given two votes each, is unfair. By this calculation they contend, a county which has less than 100 votes has the same representation as a county with 2,000 votes. This feature will figure largely, they say, in their fight to be made for recognition by the National convention.

The Roosevelt followers say the apportionment of votes is made in compliance with the Terrell State election law.

It was generally expected this morning that all the delegates would appear in the regular convention and make their fight on the floor. Before the time for the opening of the convention, however, the Taft cohorts were marching down the street to another hall. By noon both conventions had perfected their temporary organizations and were proceeding with the business before them. The Roosevelt convention adopted the majority report of the executive committee on temporary roll. The Taft meeting adopted a minority report signed by two of the committee's 31 members.

The Roosevelt leaders were willing to concede only about 40 counties to the Taft convention, basing their claims on the poll which showed 171 1-2 votes with 41 counties reported to have held no conventions. There were, however, a number of counties which had their votes split by separate conventions. Some of the delegates who attended the Taft convention early in the day returned to the Roosevelt convention later.

The delegates at large are: For Roosevelt: Cecil A. Lyon, Sherman; Ed C. Lasator, Falfurrias; H. L. Borden, Houston; J. E. Williams, Hamilton; Louis Lindsey, Gainesville; J. O. Terrell, San Antonio; J. M. McCormick, Dallas; Sam Davidson, Fort Worth.

Fort Taft: H. MacGregor, Houston; W. C. Averill, Beaumont; C. K. McDowell, Del Rio; J. E. Elgin, San Antonio; J. E. Lutz, Vernon; W. H. Lane, McKinney; W. M. McDonald, Fort Worth; H. W. Burroughs, Fort Worth.

H. W. A. PAGE CONVICTED

The Man Who Called Congressmen "Crooks" Guilty of Libel

Washington, May 28.—Henry W. A. Page, the New York lime merchant, on trial here for criminal libel in circulating defamatory literature against Chairman Henry D. Clayton, of the House Judiciary Committee and other members of Congress, was today found guilty by a jury. Immediately after the verdict was reported, counsel for Page gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial. Justice Barnard released the convicted man in $5,000 bail.

In his testimony which closed the defense, Page disclaimed any "malice" in the circular and pamphlet attacking Representative Clayton and other members of the House. He admitted that he had called members of the House "crooks," but said that he had not meant the term in its usually accepted form. He re-counted his experience in the New York courts which led to his circular being sent to the House members demanding the impeachment of New York State judges. It was the failure of the Judiciary Committee to act on this circular that led to Page's pamphlet denouncing the House members as "crooks."

No date was set for arguments on the motion for a new trial.

Supreme Court Affirms Sentence of Six Years for Black Mountain Constable—Mileage Book Decision—Appeals.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 28.—The North Carolina Supreme Court delivered opinions in 19 appeals this evening and will deliver a final batch Wednesday noon and adjourn for the term. The court finds no error in the case of State vs. F. C. Watkins, from Buncombe, in which the Black Mountain police officer is under sentence of six years on the roads for killing Jno. Hill Bunting, of Wilmington, in a Black Mountain hotel in August, 1909. Watkins must now take up service of his sentence.

In E. L. Mason vs. S. A. L. Ry., from Mecklenburg, the trial below is sustained, Mason losing his suit for damages for being put off a passenger train between Ellensboro and Charlotte, in August, 1910, because he would not show his mileage book, from which coupons had been pulled for a mileage ticket, he presented to the conductor. The court holds that mileage book terms are a special contract between the railroad company and the mileage book owner and such passenger has no right beyond the terms on the ticket. For refusing the mileage book when demanded, he forfeited his right to be a passenger and his ejection was justifiable. Justice Brown writes the opinion of the court. Chief Justice Clark files a dissenting opinion denying that uncut mileage book was sold as a favor and the railroad asserting that it was one of the terms of a compromise between the State and the railroad company in 1907 and 1908. He argues mileage ticket is a useless regulation, not permitted except in North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia. It was tried in South Carolina and prohibited by that State and mileage book terms are various and unnecessary regulations that should not be upheld by the courts.

The opinions delivered by the court are as follows: Midgett vs. Gray, Dare, new trial ordered, the former opinion cancelled; State vs. Pace, Craven, no error; Hiteford vs. Commissioners of Craven, affirmed; State vs. Avery, Lenoir, no error; Herring vs. Lumber Co., Sampson, new trial; In re Johnson Dunn, Cumberland, affirmed; Vangilden vs. Bullen, Union, new trial; Bunch vs. Commissioners of Randolph, reversed; Penn vs. Western Union, Forsyth, affirmed; Mason vs. S. A. L. Ry., Mecklenburg, no error; Brewer vs. Abernathy, Burke, reversed; State vs. Watkins, Buncombe, no error; Thomason vs. Hackney, Moore county, new trial; Bunk vs. Whilden, Graham, new trial; Westfeldt vs. Adams, Haywood, new trial; Anderson vs. Meadoons, Macon, new trial; Board of Education vs. Orr, Graham, error; Board of Trustees vs. Brown, Macon, affirmed; Robinson vs. Jarratt, Macon, new trial.

OUTLINES

The House passed the Naval Appropriation bill yesterday, amended so as to require an eight-hour day on all government work and failed to provide for any new battleships.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 28.—The Roosevelt-Taft fight in Texas resulted in the holding of two conventions in that State yesterday. The Republicans split over the method of vote apportionment and each faction held separate conventions.

Attorney General Wickersham issued a statement yesterday declaring that the suit against the Southern Pacific has developed sensational and startling disclosures.

The State Department's action in taking precautionary measures in Cuba was vindicated yesterday when the leaders of the rebels threatened untold destruction of property unless the negroes were allowed to organize a party.

REBELS THREATEN CUBAN PROPERTY

Will Use Fire and Sword, If Not Allowed to Organize Negro Party.

ACTION OF U. S. VINDICATED

Insurrectos Have So Far Taken $6,000 In Money and Have Destroyed By Fire Fully $80,000 Worth Of Sugar Cane

Washington, May 28.—The precautions taken to protect American and other foreign interests in Cuba have been amply justified in the judgment of the State Department, based upon the reports that have been received from many sources, and especially from the owners of plantations and sugar mills and iron mines and other industries.

One fact vindicating the State Department's action in asking for naval protection of American interests is the threatening attitude of the rebels. According to information, apparently reliable, that comes to the department, the insurgents are becoming desperate and Estenoz, their leader, declares that if President Gomez does not secure the repeal of the Morua law, prohibiting the organization of a strictly negro party in Cuba, he and the other leaders will demand contributions from the railroads and from the owners of estates, in order to prolong the conflict and will destroy the property of those who refuse.

The State Department hopes that immediate and energetic measures on the part of the Cuban government will suffice to quell the revolt and prevent further depredations. It is realized that it is not easy for regular troops to run down and capture these rebels, who are familiar with every trail in the jungle.

As the idea has been broached that the rebels are calculating upon making an easy escape from Cuba to other far West Indian islands in the event that they are too closely pressed by the government troops, it is proposed by some of the naval officers here, if tney are called upon to take an active part in the troubles, to cut off the retreat of such fugutives by a thorough boat patrol of every inch of the eastern coast of Cuba.

One of the Cuban generals in Oriente estimates the number of armed rebels in the field at between three and four thousand, and that perhaps six or seven thousand unarmed negro revolutionists are roaming in the province waiting developments.

So far, according to official advices, the rebels have taken forcibly $6,000 in money and have destroyed by fire fully $80,000 worth of sugar cane.

Rebels Make Successful Attack.

Havana, May 28.—Since the beginning of the insurrection in Oriente news from the front never was so meagre as today. Information reaching Havana was confined to indications of increased boldness on the part of the insurgents as evidenced by their successful attacks on the villages of Ramon de Las Yaguas and Yerbaguinea, where they defeated the rural guards and captured a sergeant and seven privates together with arms and ammunition.

These two places are about 20 miles northeast of Santiago and are within the zone of operations in which the National and insurgent forces are now face to face.

According to reports from Santiago the rurals were routed. It is now unquestioned that Estonz and Ivonet have under them 2,000 mounted negroes to oppose the concentrated government forces.

Recruiting continues actively in Havana. Nearly 1,000 men have been formed as a home guard for the defense of the city. Seven hundred volunteers are organizing for field service under Col. Piedra. The gunboat [illegible] this evening for Oriente, loaded with ammunition, cannon, machine guns and rifles.

All the provinces except Oriente, according to the latest reports, are free from any signs of disturbances.

Marines Arrive at Key West

Key West, Fla., May 28.—A detachment of 129 marines under Captain C. J. E. Guggenheim and Lieutenant H. C. Hudson, arrived here today from Port Royal on a special train. They were assigned to the United States battleship Nebraska, now in Key West harbor, for which they embarked on the tug Osceola.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Dr. P. D. Sinclair, of Asheville, Trys To Kill Himself

Asheville, N. C., May 28.—While two male friends sat in his office singing the hymn, "Just As I Am Without One Plea," Dr. P. D. Sinclair, a young dentist of this city fired a 38-calibre bullet into his left breast at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The singing of the hymn mentioned has been preceded by "Nearer My God to Thee" said to have been sung by the Titanic band as she sank into the waves. At its conclusion the doctor asked his friends to sing "Just As I Am." As the last line was being sung Dr. Sinclair rose from his seat and shot himself. He was taken to a hospital where attending physicians stated that the injured man would recover. No cause can be assigned for the doctor's attempt at self-destruction.

BATTLESHIP PROPOSALS LOST

House Passes Naval Appropriation Bill Without Providing For Any Dreadnaughts—Eight-hour Law Adopted

Washington, May 28.—The House today passed the Naval Appropriation bill without providing for any new battleships. In the final hours of consideration, however, a radical amendment was added by which government contracts in the future must be filled under the eight-hour law. The proviso applies not alone to naval contracts, but to all work that hereafter may be done for the government. The bill carries approximately $119,000,000.

The adoption of the eight-hour amendment followed a lengthy debate in which Representative Buchanan, of Illinois, Democrat, a former labor leader took a prominent part. The amendment was in the form of the eight-hour bill passed by the House last December, but upon which the Senate and House so far has refused to act.

The principal fight of the day raged around the proposal to provide for two battleships. As a result of a Democratic caucus no provision for such ships was made. Representatives Roberts, of Massachusetts, Republican, offered the amendment for two ships to cost not more than $6,000,000 each.

Representative Murray, of Massachusetts, Democrat, urged the adoption of the building programme. The country, he said, had repudiated the action of the caucus. Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, Republican, offered a substitute amendment providing for one battleship, and Representative Rucker of Colorado, Democrat, condemned the entire building scheme.

"Battleships are out of commission," he said, "their day is done. This is the age of the aeroplane and hydroplane which has all these gigantic and costly war craft at their mercy. It is growing daily more foolish even to fortify our coasts."

The battleship proposals were voted down 140 to 106. It is generally believed that the Senate will provide for one battleship when the bill is put through, the upper branch, and it is tacitly understood that the House will accept the situation after making a show of dissent.

The House voted 81 to 19 that two fuel ships should be built in navy yards.

DAVIDSON COMMENCEMENT.

Baccalaureate Sermon Preached Yesterday—Exercises for Today.

Davidson College, May 28.—The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Davidson College, was preached this morning by Rev. R. E. Vinson, of the Theological Seminary, Austin, Texas. The sermon was a powerful presentation of the dynamics of Jesus, and was heard by an immense audience.

The other exercises of today are: A meeting of alumni association this afternoon; a gymnastic and musical entertainment; and tonight the annual oratorical contest between the two literary societies, followed by an alumni reception.

Yesterday evening at 8 o'clock the two literary societies held their annual reunion. The valedictory for the Eumenean Society was delivered by T. A. Beckett, of the senior class; and the response was made by W. L. Golden, of the junior class. For the Phi Society J. H. Brady, of the senior class made the valedictory, the response being made by A. L. McDuffie of the junior class.

The alumni made short speeches following the delivery of the valedictories, after which both societies adjourned to Shearer Hall for a reception.

Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia, made an address on American and International Literature, that created profound interest, and was one of the most notable of the occasion.

KENTUCKY SITUATION.

Stormy Convention Expected in Spite of Clark's Lead.

Louisville, Ky., May 28.—Notwithstanding the sweeping victory of Champ Clark in the county conventions, which eliminated a Presidential preference from the field of speculation in Kentucky, Democratic politics, the State convention tomorrow will not be lacking in spectacular attractiveness and the friends of Clark are hoping that his interests will not become confused in one of the most bitter struggles for control of the party organization witnessed in years.

Striking figures dominate the foreground in the contest. Senator-elect Ollie M. James and Governor J. B. McCreary are candidates for temporary chairman of the convention. Each has hundreds of votes instructed for him, though neither enough to win and each is claiming victory. Both have opened headquarters and are rallying every influence they can command to capture the convention, which carries with it the reorganization of the State committee and the selection of the State chairman. Nearly every Democratic Congressman from Kentucky is here or on his way here to take part in the fight.

Obscured in the preliminary survey by the more immediate issues of party control, the personal affair between Henry Watterson, veteran editor, and J. C. W. Beckham, the "boy Governor" who recently engaged in a bitter newspaper controversy, may at any moment flame into the most brilliant incident of the convention.

CONGRESS ACTS ON TITANIC DISASTER

Following Senator Smith's Report, Resolutions Are Introduced.

MEDAL FOR CAPTAIN ROSTRON

Blame for the Catastrophe is Chargeable to Dead Capt. Smith—Capt. Lord, of Californian, Also Blamed.

Washington, May 28.—The formal thanks of Congress to the steamer Carpathia's officers and crew for the rescue of the Titanic survivors were expressed in a joint resolution passed today by the Senate. The House will take prompt action. The resolution is the first of three measures introduced by Senator Smith, of Michigan, following his speech in the Senate today and the presentation of his report of the investigation of the Titanic disaster.

The resolution directs the President "to cause to be made and presented to Capt. Rostron, of the Carpathia, a suitable gold medal appropriately inscribed, which shall express the high estimation in which Congress holds the service of this officer, whose promptness and vigilance was due the rescue of 374 women and children and 330 men."

Two other measures were introduced and referred to the Commerce Committee. One was a bill requiring that every steel ocean or coastwise seagoing steam vessel and every steel steam vessel navigating the great northern and northwestern lakes, carrying 100 or more passengers, must have "a water tight skin inboard from the forward collision bulkhead over not less than two-thirds of the length of the vessel and the bulkheads so spaced that any two adjacent compartments may be flooded without destroying the flotability or stability of the vessel."

Every ocean or coastwise sea-going steam vessel navigating between different lake ports allowed to carry more than 50 passengers must have on board life boats of an aggregate carrying capacity computed in cubic feet equal to 10 times the total number of her crew, plus the total number of her passengers. Every vessel, except river craft, would have to carry one life preserver for each person allowed to be carried on that vessel, including the crew.

A resolution introduced would provide for the creation of a commission, under a $10,000 appropriation for expenses to investigate the laws and regulations relating to construction, equipment and navigation of vessels and to report to Congress through the President its findings and recommendations together with a draft of legislation and regulations it shall propose by January 1st, 1913. The commission, consisting of a representative of the Federal Steamboat Inspection Service, a ship builder, a ship owner, a lawyer, a naval constructor, and a naval engineer officer, would be empowered to meet and hold public hearings anywhere.

Report of Senator Smith.

Blame for the Titanic disaster is chargeable directly to the failure of the dead Captain Smith to heed repeated warnings of icebergs ahead, but responsibility for unnecessary loss of life must be shared by Capt. Lord, of the steamship Californian, through his disregard of distress signals. This is the finding of the Senate committee, which investigated the sinking of the Titanic, as prepared in a comprehensive speech delivered by William Alden Smith, of Michigan, chairman of the committee.

Senator Smith declared that responsibility also rests upon the British Board of Trade, "to whose laxity of regulation and hasty inspection, the world is largely indebted for the awful fatality." In denouncing Capt. Lord, of the Californian, the Senator said the Titanic's distress signals were plainly seen from the deck of his vessel a short distance away.

"America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty," asserted the Senator, and he quoted British law to show that Capt. Lord might be prosecuted for a misdemeanor.

Other conclusions presented, in brief, were as follows:

Before the Titanic departed on her maiden voyage there were not sufficient tests of boilers, bulkheads, equipment or signal devices.

Officers and crew were strangers to each other and not familiar with the ship's implements or tools, and no drill or station practice took place and no helpful discipline prevailed.

The speed of the Titanic was 24 1-2 miles an hour at time of the accident, although officers of the Titanic had been advised of the presence of icebergs by the steamships Baltic, Amerika and Californian.

Passengers were not advised of danger, although President Ismay, of the White Star Line, who was taking the vessel's maiden voyage, was informed. No general alarm was given nor any organized system of safety undertaken.

Of the 1,324 passengers and 899 members of crew on board, there was room in the lifeboats for only 1,176 persons and because of lack of orderly discipline the boats took off only 704

JOHN S. SAEGER TESTIFIES.

Counsel for D., L. & W. R. R. Admits Writing Archbald Letter.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—John L. Saeger, counsel for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway, before the House Judiciary Committee today admitted authorship of a letter to Inter-State Commerce Commissioner Meyer, which "got Judge Archbald into trouble," and said he was sorry eh had written it. In this letter Mr. Saeger stated that he knew on reliable authority "that the Marion Coal Company, of Scranton, had lost its property and would not continue a suit against the railroad company pending before the commission. It was following this letter that the United States Court at Scranton rendered a judgment against the coal company in another suit. Mr. Saeger explained that he had written the letter at the orders of his superior, William S. Jenney, general counsel of the railroad. The witness said that Mr. Jenney "had practically dictated" the letter. He also said that he had seen two letters from Judge Archbald bearing on the coal company's affairs in Mr. Jenney's office.

"Did you ask Mr. Jenney for the 'reliable authority' he had?" asked Representative Norris.

"Yes; I knew you would ask me that and I asked him yesterday, before coming to Washington," said Saeger.

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—President George A. Gates, of Fisk University, the local negro institution, yesterday afternoon announced a letter from J. Pierpont Morgan, subscribing $25,000 to the school; the purpose being to assist in getting a $60,000 donation from the General Education Board.

After the unfurling, Governor W. W. Kitchin briefly addressed the fans and ball players. The local team defeated the visitors 7 to 1.

CHARLESTON TRUCK.

Growers Have Done Well This Season With Tubers.

Charleston, S. C., May 28.—Those farmers of Charleston who have succeeded in growing potatoes this year are going to roll in wealth as a result of their good fortune. While heavy rains have impaired the local output of Irish potatoes materially, top prices are being paid for all the potatoes offered in Northern and Western markets, so that several local planters are due to make a killing in this line of agriculture.

Potatoes are beginning to move from Charleston now at a lively clip, as are beans and cucumbers. The cabbage season has closed with pretty good prices and a fair crop to testify to local prosperity. It looks as if all local planters will clean up cozy profits on their truck, although the handicap of wet weather has affected all products. The potato crop is considerably lighter than last year's, when the potato growers sent out a fair sized harvest. Prices are even higher this year.

GUILTY, AS CHARGED

The Waverley Furniture Co., corner Second and Market, were found guilty of selling furniture cheaper than any furniture store in Wilmington. This is not a new concern but the G. F. Hunt Furniture Co., and the Hunt-Bost Furniture Co., were consolidated into the now Waverly Furniture Co.

After viewing all the evidence displayed, Mr. E. S. Waddell, the manager, admitted that the charges were true, and taking into consideration that the running expenses of the Waverly Furniture Co., were less than any furniture store in Wilmington, did not see wherein he did not have a right to do so.

The trial judge dismissed the case and allowed them to proceed as it was a considerable saving to the people of Wilmington to purchase furniture at these fabulous low prices they are asking.

Mr. J. H. Bost, the secretary and treasurer, said in his testimony he had never seen prices so low, such as brass beds, felt mattresses, mahogany dressers and chiffoniers, dining room furniture, parlor suites, nice rockers, etc., and he did not see how the purchasing public could pass them by unnoticed.

hold primaries before the National convention.

Early Returns Show Close Race

Newark, N. J., May 28.—Returns from the New Jersey primary election at 11 o'clock tonight ,two hours after the polls closed, were too meagre to give definite indications as to which way the State had swung in the struggle for delegates to the National conventions. The first returns came from Newark and Cape May county, almost opposite extremes of the State, and the few voting districts which had finished their count at that hour gave Theodore Roosevelt a slight lead on the Republican side, while the Democratic struggle, which was a fight for and against Governor Woodrow Wilson, seemed evenly balanced.

Early returns from Cape May, one of the sparsely settled four counties comprising the Second Congressional district, indicated a majority in the county of 500 for Roosevelt over Taft. At the same time E. W. Gray, secretary of the Taft Business Men's League, claims the city of Newark for Taft, basing it on the first 18 Newark districts to report which gave on the Presidential preference vote 812 for Taft and 466 for Roosevelt.

First returns from the Southern part of the State gave the Wilson delegates a vote of nearly 10 to 1 over the uninstructed delegates running against them. In Essex county, the stronghold of the Wilson opposition, the first 30 districts to report gave the uninstructed delegates a vote of 1,144 to 762 for the Wilson men.

Taft Returns to Washington

Washington, May 28.—President Taft returned tonight from his strenuous primary campaign in New Jersey, reaching the White House satisfied with the results accomplished by his speech-making tour which ended only with the opening of the New Jersey polls this afternoon.

The New Jersey campaign closes the President's personal participation in the State primary campaigns, as it is unlikely that he will go to South Dakota, around whose primary results interest now already centers.

MANY WITNESSES EXAMINED.

Seventeen Testify in Myrtle Hawkins Trial—10 More Days.

Hendersonville, N. C., May 28.—Seventeen witnesses were introduced by the defense in the Hawkins case this morning and although considerable progress is being made in the taking of evidence, counsel for the defense state that it is highly probable that 10 days more will be taken in the trial of this case, as there are somewhere about 50 witnesses to be examined.

The testimony yesterday and today had to do altogether with the whereabouts of Mrs. Lizzie Shaft and Mrs. Nora Britt from September 6th to 10th. Several witnesses, the character of two of whom was bitterly attacked, testified that Mrs. Britt was home in Asheville on the night of Thursday, September 7th, leaving on Friday for a point in Henderson county about 10 miles from Hendersonville. Others testified that Mrs. Shaft was home on September 7th. Several character witnesses were introduced and testified to the unsavory reputation of some of the State's witnesses, while the character of witnesses for the defense had also been attacked.

For the past 24 hours the names of the McCalls and Bradleys have not been mentioned in the court proceedings.

Hendersonville, N. C., May 28.—Two witnesses were placed on the stand today in the Myrtle Hawkins case who testified to the best of their knowledge and ability that the body taken from the lake was not that of Myrtle Hawkins. They were H. K. Morris, a railway messenger between Washington and Knoxville, who was born in this county, and lived here most of his life, and J. B. Arledge, a resident of this city. Both knew Myrtle and both were sure the body taken from Lake Osceola was not that of Myrtle Hawkins. Mr. Arledge, in particular, was sure that the body was that of an older and heavier person than Miss Hawkins.

Several witnesses from Polk county, the native county of the accused Bradleys, are in the city, and they tell, it is said, a strange tale of a grave being robbed in that county a few nights before Myrtle Hawkins' body was found in the lake. Just what connection with the case this will have is not given out, although attorneys for the defense say that the evidence that Myrtle Hawkins is still alive is accumulating rapidly. Most of the day was taken up in character testimony and an attempt to establish an alibi for two of the women involved, Mrs. Britt and Mrs. Shaft.

New York, May 28.—Tim Hurst, the veteran baseball umpire and boxing referee, who recently suffered a relapse of an attack of pneumonia, was reported today as sinking rapidly. His physician thought it was doubtful if he would live through the day.

WATCHING CUBA.

Five Torpedo Boats Leave Norfolk Navy Yard.

Norfolk, Va., May 28.—Five torpedo boats, the Terry, Roe, Paulding, Drayton and McCall, left the Norfolk navy yard at 6:30 o'clock tonight and it was reported that they were under orders to proceed to Key West to join the fleet now assembling at that point to keep a watchful eye on the rebellion in Cuba. The little boats were not reported as passing Cape Henry today. The collier Mars, loaded with coal, left today for Key West to supply fuel to the warships.

WILSON'S MANAGER TALKS

Capt. S. E. Williams, In Charge of State Headquarters, Speaks of Results In North Carolina—Question of Instruction

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., May 28.—Capt. S. E. Williams, in charge of Woodrow Wilson's headquarters in North Carolina, today commented upon the convention results in the State, as follows:

"The interview published in the Greensboro Daily News, of the 24th inst., especially the headlines of the article are misleading. I did not mean to say I thought the State would not instruct at Raleigh on the 6th of June.

"In fact, Gov. Wilson has carried every district in the State with the possible exception of the Tenth. We will unquestionably have an overwhelming majority in the State Convention, and a safe working majority in each district convention.

"Many of the strongest Wilson delegates are uninstructed, as in Guilford, where they are at least three-fourths for Governor Wilson.

"I did not dream of such a construction being put upon what I said. I was simply complaining at the interference to the people's will, for if there is one thing I do believe in, it is that in conventions the voice of the people shall be heard and the wi.. of the people obeyed. This phase of the initiative is certainly mandatory on the Democratic party. It is urged by some that we had as well send a letter to a convention as an instructed delegation. This is true within a certain limit, but I had rather risk a letter than risk the average politicians who is not willing to hear and heed what the people he is attempting to represent have said in solemn conventions assembled. The plan of organization of the Democratic party provides that when any expression of sentiment is voiced in the primaries, that expression shall be preserved and represented in the county convention, and in the absence of expression from the townships it pre-supposes that the county will give expression to the sense of the convention and this must go up to the next highest court.

"At the district convention this expressed sentiment must be there voiced but they may then resolve themselves into a Democratic Household and by a majority rule, say what the greatest number have decided is best.

"In the State it is a custom, after having carried up the expressed sentiment of townships and counties, to there reckon where the majority lies, and give expression to that majority in instructing its delegation as a unit according to that majority. It has been the custom to adopt the unit rule at the State convention and go to the National convention as a unit. For it is urged that the State's influences in the National convention would be lessened and unavailing if divided.

"I regard the obligation to be a sacred one, that we instruct our delegates to the National convention to obey the people's will, and voice their cry even as the majority comes up from the precincts and counties. Not to do this is to cease to be Democratic, and leave the matter open, whereby politicians may thwart the people's will.

"I regard an uninstructed delegation to Baltimore as equivolent to a delegation instructed against Governor Wilson.

"The opposition to Governor Wilson will have accomplished all they want, if they get this State to refuse to instruct for him.

"If Mr. Underwood has won a majority in this State I hope his followers will have the nerve and faith behind them to force instructions for him. If Governor Wilson has won the majority we will certainly instruct according to that majority if the delegates who represent him shall not prove recreant to the trust reposed in them. I know some men of high moral character and upright standing differ with me in this particular, and are in no sense in the market to be traded with, but that was according to the old way to play politics. We are now in a new era. We are in the midst of circumstances and conditions we have never had to face before. There is no question about the fact that big money has been spent by somebody in this campaign for nominations. This expenditure may stop when the State convention adjourns, but the people will not know that it has not gone on with an accelerated influence when the Baltimore convention shall have been organized. If the people have an honest choice in this matter the only safe thing to do is to give expression to that choice; hence let the delegates to the State convention speak the truth and express the will of the people who have sent them, and delegate to them the authority to speak. It is really the only safe course at this time, that the majority rule may obtain and be pronounced, that the monetary influences shall not be deemed or charged, to have varied or diverted the will of the people. It sometimes happens that a good man who does not mean to do wrong will take a position before a convention that he would not dare to take before the people in mass. He may think the people can pass on men but cannot pass on measures, but he will be very careful to say that only to representative classes and not to the masses.

"The fact that some counties have failed to instruct their delegates is to me no indication that the majority of the delegates appointed from that county will not be willing to express themselves definitely, and not uncertainly, when they assemble in convention. They know what their constituency expects of them. They know what the sentiment of the people behind them is, and I have faith in their integrity and believe they will not refuse to give expression to the sentiment of the people they represent. It seems to me this is one form of the initiative no honest man will try to evade. I do not mean by that; a man may not have an honest opinion that he can play politics better if left uninstructed, but I am unalterably opposed to playing any sort of game of politics that has in it the possibility of a departure from the will of the people.

"I feel sure that Governor Wilson has won the State, but I am not saying this because I feel sure of that; that is beyond the question in mind, I am urging it as an honest conviction, involving a principle of right. I believe it would be a crime against conscience, a departure from party fealty, an abandonment of expediency, a breach of everything that ought to govern a man's conduct in public life, not to give expression to the voice that has foisted him and made him a delegate."

MR. VARNER'S CLAIMS

Underwood's Manager Gives Out Statement As to North Carolina

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lexington, N. C., May 28.—Hr. H. B. Varner, Mr. Underwood's manager, tonight gave out the following interview on the present status of the political situation:

"From the latest reports from over the State, it is increasingly apparent that the majority of the uninstructed delegates to the State Democratic convention are for Underwood. It is a well-known fact that it has been the policy of the Wilson people to force instructions wherever they could, often stifling the minority in the process. The vast number of counties that will send uninstructed delegotions to the convention is but proof of the prevalence of Underwood sentiment, and the event will show that the majority of these delegates are Underwood men at heart. The action of the Seventh district, which contains more of Wilson's friends than any other single district in the State, is but further proof of the extent of the landslide. Two of the delegates elected from the Seventh are ardent supporters of Underwood, one is not committed and one is a mild Wilsonite.

"All North Carolina now sees plainly that the Wilson boom has collapsed. Four months ago, his supporters were claiming that they had 810 votes as good as instructed, that they had the solid South, and that North Carolina would instruct for him almost without a dissenting vote. They have only a few more States, in the Nation than Underwood whom at the outset they professed to despise. So far from having the solid South they have utterly failed to carry a single State in it and in North Carolina they find themselves confronted with a regular Underwood landslide. In the light of that record, their present absurd claim of having carried the State is showed up for what it really is, merely a whistle to keep up their courage.

"That my favorite in the race has carried the State, which fact should now be clear to the dullest mind, is naturally gratifying to me personally, but as a citizen of North Carolina, I am still more pleased that my State should have rallied, in this hour of need, to the first Democratic President of the United States since Cleveland. I firmly believe that this will prove to be the pivotal State, and that from this time on the candidacy of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood will advance with gigantic strides. The state of the Republican party is already absolutely hopeless; it is no longer a question of whom can the Democrats elect, but whom will they choose as most nearly representing the ideals of Democracy, for they can elect any man they care to put up. This being the case there can no longer be any question as to the logical candidate for Underwood is the very personification of Jeffersonian Democracy.

"He will be nominated in June, and triumphantly elected in November, and best of all to us, North Carolina will occupy a front seat in the band wagon all the way."

Escapes An Awful Fate

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, its the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free at R. R. Bellamy's.

SIX CHARTERS ARE ISSUED

Fayetteville Light and Power Co.—Corporation Commission to Inspect Southern Part of A. & Y.—To Speak

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 28.—Charters for six important new corporations were issued today by the Department of State. One of the most notable is The Blake Car Step Works, Charlotte, capital $250,000 authorized and $40,000 subscribed by Jno. S. Blake, Fred D. Lake, Jno. C. Blake and J. L. McClentock.

Fayetteville Light and Power Co., of Fayetteville, is another new corporation. It has for its purpose the absorption of the plant of the Fayetteville Gas & Electric Co., and the street railway system of Fayetteville. It is understood that the new concern is to be controlled by the Carolina Power and Light Co., of Raleigh, which is taking over about all the electric light and power business in this Eastern belt of the State through the development of the long distance transmission of current from Blewett Falls power plant on the Pee Dee river and Buckhorn Shoals plant on the upper Cape Fear, and has also, recently absorbed the electric and street railway interests at Asheville.

The Weldon Banking and Trust Co., of Weldon, is chartered with $100,000 capital authorized and $10,000 subscribed for general banking business, the incorporators being Col. W. H. S. Bergwyn, S. F. Patterson and others.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Co., of Greenville, is chartered with $100,000 capital authorized and $30,000 subscribed by J. W. Ferrall, W. Z. Morton and others.

The Piedmont Realty and Auction Co., Greensboro, capital $25,000 authorized and $15,000 subscribed by David Ray and others.

The Oriental Ice and Development Co., of Oriental, Pamlico county, capital $15,000 by H. A. Reel, S. W. Ferrebee and others.

Governor Kitchin has gone to Guilford College today to deliver an address in connection with the commencement exercises of this famous Quaker College. He will return to the city tomorrow.

Members of the Corporation Commission go Thursday for an inspection trip over the C. F. & Y. V., section of the Southern Railway Co., Greensboro to Mt. Airy, to determine upon the merits of complaints that have been filed as to the condition of the road bed, Greensboro to Mt. Airy, and as to the coach equipment on the passenger trains on this line. Also at Mount Airy the Commission will inspect the passenger station which is also complained of by citizens. The complaints on file include the charge that the condition of the road bed is at many points really dangerous.

The Supreme Court will probably adjourn for the term the last of this week and it is understood that Chief Justice Walter Clark will get right into the campaign personally in connection with the run he is making for the seat of Hon. F. M. Simmons in the United States Senate. He intends to make campaign speeches in many sections of the State. He says his campaign is getting along splendidly.

Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman has gone to Washington to attend the International Association of Commissioners of Labor and Printing, of which he is a vice president. His friends believe he has a fine chance to be chosen president of the association at this session. He is scheduled for an important address.

While Master Andrew Hinton, son of A. C. Hinton, prominent tailor here, and Master Augustus Knox, son of Dr. A. W. Knox, were playing with bean-shooters, a missile from young Knox's bean-shooter hit young Hinton in the left eye so that little hope is entertained that the sight can be saved.

The people of Raleigh are scheduled to hear United States Senator Bankhead and Congressman Heflin, of Alabama, Thursday evening in the new auditorium in the interest of the Presidential candidacy of Oscar W. Underwood. A big local reception committee and associate committees from each of the other counties in this, the Fourth, Congressional district have been named and the event is to assume most pretentious proportions. The committee is headed by Mr. Frank Stronach as chairman, with James H. Pou, Jno. C. Drewry and Col. Armistead Jones.

Mrs. E. B. Roberts, a most estimable lady of this city, died of apoplexy early this morning at her home here aged 63 years. She was stricken yesterday afternoon and sank steadily until the end came about 1:15 o'clock this morning. She leaves six children, all grown and several of them married.

Washington, May 28.—Complete agreement was today reached by the Senate and House conferees on the agricultural appropriation bill. The $250,000 item for farm management instruction work inserted into the bill by the Senate was reduced in conference to $50,000. Ten per cent of money received from National forests hereafter is to be devoted to road construction and maintenance in the National forests within the States from which the proceeds are derived.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from Mr. J. N. Catlett, Commerce, Ga., and Mrs. Rose Garvin, Ridgeville, S. C., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, nongriping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly, so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

The voice of the people is nothing to the voice of candidates. Some men imagine they hear the voice of the people.

Says the Baltimore Sun: "Down in Cuba the favorite political argument is a gun." In the United States it's a son of a gun.

The fact that one man hit another with a hammer a few days ago, is no sign that there is any knocking in Wilmington. Wilmington is doing so much right now that the knockers have all got good jobs.

Scientists announce that the skulls of eleven primitive men have been found in a cave in the State of Washington. This will prove interesting to those primitive men who piled one after another onto the Roosevelt bandwagon.

It begins to look like the National Republican committee will have to decide who has enough delegates to get the Presidential nomination. In that event, the committee will not be respected any more than if it were an umpire.

It would be revolutionary if delegates instructed and pledged to Taft were to change at Chicago and vote for Roosevelt. The Rough Rider, however, is a revolutionary spirit, and does not care a drat whether the delegates come to him fairly or not.

Wilson Democrats in Texas differ as to the kind of tariff plank to be put in the platform. Very few Texas people understand the real purpose of the tariff and its bearing on the different portions of this country. Senator Bailey knows, but they will not listen to anybody who knows.

Speaking about the State Democratic convention at Norfolk a few days ago, the Richmond Times-Dispatch says: "All the old familiar faces were there." They also played the same old role as to withholding instruction of the delegates to the Baltimore convention. They expect to get instructions after they go to Baltimore.

A New Jersey man, considering it a disgrace to be called a grafter, sued for $25,000 damages and was awarded a verdict for only one dollar! The jury decided to give him just enough to vindicate him and keep him from paying the cost, but it was a narrow escape for the man who considered that his reputation was worth something.

The Georgia Underwood delegation is to be accompanied to Washington by a crowd of 1,000 rooters. They will go in two solid trains of Pullman coaches and will carry along a drum corps and cornet band. The Democrats who are going to Baltimore had better go there with serious intentions and remember what happened to them once by getting excited.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch goes into ecstacies over alleged strawberry shortcake as it is hammered out in Virginia. A lot of hifalutin words are used about that product, and a half column is consumed in artistic phrasing and vain imagery to steer the unsuspecting and unwary up against a shortcake that must be a cross between a Charleston waffle and a rubber tire. People down about Petersburg had better not be baited to Richmond under the idea that her strawberry shortcake meets all the delectable definitions showered upon it. Charleston waffles probably are imported to form the saddleskirt part of those shortcakes.

DEPENDING ON A SAFE DEMOCRAT.

The New York Financial and Commercial Chronicle, of May 25th, declares in a leading editorial on "The Financial Situation," that "the political situation calls for action on the part of business men." That conservative journal sees danger ahead in the radicalism and crazy-quilt politics of the Rough Rider, and speaking about the latest phase of the political situation from a financial point of view, that able publication says:

"It is each day assuming a more threatening character. The result of the State primaries in Ohio on Tuesday of this week, which every one conceded in advance would be decisive on the chances for the Republican Presidential nomination of President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt, has been that Mr. Roosevelt gets 32 of the district delegates to the Republican convention, while Mr. Taft gets only 10. Who will get the delegates-at-large from that State seems yet to be in doubt. This triumph of Mr. Roosevelt in Mr. Taft's own State, following the other Roosevelt successes the present month—in Maryland, in Texas, in Minnesota, in California, in West Virginia, etc.—and the still more notable victories achieved the previous month in Illinois and Pennsylvania, makes Mr. Roosevelt's nomination by the National Republican convention at Chicago next month almost a foregone conclusion. We are aware, of course, that Mr. Taft still insists that his own nomination is certain and that some of the Taft adherents (not a great many, however) keep echoing the same view; but, unfortunately, there is only too much reason for thinking that Mr. Taft is deceiving himself. On the face of the figures, Mr. Taft has enough delegates to give him the nomination, but the Taft delegates in good part are only lukewarm in his support, and there is more or less tendency to defection all through the ranks of the Taft adherents. On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt is surrounded by a band of political zealots who will fight with him to the very end."

The Financial and Commercial Chronicle sees about what appears at this time to be inevitable—a stampede of delegates to Roosevelt in view of the close fight he is giving the President for delegates. It is true that President Taft has been counting upon the loyalty of delegates, which by right are his, but he will find that when the test comes he will be the victim of desertion. Already we see evidences of that, even among the stand-pat New York delegation. A New York dispatch on Sunday announced that 24 of the 90 delegates from New York have pledged their support to Roosevelt and the probability is that more of them will slip over to Roosevelt when the pinch comes at Chicago.

We rather anticipated such an outcome when the New York politicians had enough influence with the State convention to keep it from instructing the delegates for Taft. The State gave Taft practically a unanimous vote, yet the politicians saw to it that the 90 delegates sent to Chicago will go uninstructed. As we have said before, an uninstructed delegation means that it is anybody's delegation. When not instructed according to the will of the people expressed in the primaries, it always means that the politicians have prevailed and expect to go to a convention for a dicker. We said that much when the New York state convention met and failed to instruct, and that is what is generally meant by uninstructed delegations. President Taft will find out that the New York delegation will be handled at the Chicago convention to suit the politicians and if he is the victim of a false deal he need not be surprised. The political bosses are not nearly so dead as they are supposed to be, and Col. Roosevelt will be only too glad to drive a trade with the bosses who can deliver Taft goods to him at Chicago.

The Financial and Commercial Chronicle fears Roosevelt, but it hardly speaks for Wall Street, since so many of its rich denizens have shown their faith in him by subscribing to his campaign fund. The Chronicle advises that no one should "minimize the possibility of Mr. Roosevelt's nomination," and it reminds us that "as the coveted prize is gradually getting in his grasp, he is becoming more and more arrogant and defiant to those who are opposing him." That can be observed in the Colonel's threat that he will stand for no monkey business at Chicago. Words uttered by him in New Jersey a day or two ago make it look very much like intimidation of a National convention. Seeing nothing but Roosevelt, the Chronicle relies upon the Democratic party to save the country. It says:

"The duty incumbent upon business men is to bring pressure to bear everywhere upon the Democratic party, with the view to securing the nomination of a Democrat for President of the right sort, around whom men of all shades of political opinion who abhor the Roosevelt policies and doctrines could rally. The danger is that the Democrats will simply oppose Roosevelt the man, and then declare for practically the same radical policies as Roosevelt himself. There would, in that event, be no choice except a choice of evils, and accordingly Mr. Roosevelt would be triumphantly elected. That is, indeed, what Mr. Roosevelt himself is confidently counting on. What was condemned in William J. Bryan 16 years ago is now embodied in Roosevelt, and no Democrat who might be nominated could out-radical the ex-President in radicalism. The Democrats can only hope to succeed by nominating a man who will attract the conservative part of the population. By naming Bryan, or some puppet of his or of Hearst, they will be repelling the conservative Republicans who are anxious to turn from Roosevelt, but who will not vote for a Democrat permeated with the same pernicious ideas."

The Chronicle may itself look upon Roosevelt as a menace, but it is not believed down this way, "so as you will notice it," that Wall Street shares in the alarm. It knows the Colonel. It knows that he and Mr. Harriman were "both practical men," and that afterwards the Colonel proved it. The United States Steel Corporation found that he met it more than half way when it proposed that the way to stop the Roosevelt panic was to permit it to gobble up the only outstanding iron and coal company that might some day get gay enough to be a competitor. Wall Street need not be afraid of the Colonel. He will let Big Business eat out of his hand if he is nominated and elected. Wall Street will be pretty apt to vote that way in the November election, too.

TEDDY'S BIG BLUFF.

People at Washington seem to be alarmed at what might take place at Chicago on the 18th of June. It is said Roosevelt has frightened the Taft managers by threatening all sorts of things if a Roosevelt chairman with Roosevelt views is not placed in the chair. The Colonel on several occasions has declared that the steamroller cannot be run around loose at the convention, and he repeated in New Jersey a few days ago that he is not going to stand for any "strong arm work." He has said he will not have Senator Root as temporary chairman and has announced that he will make Senator Clapp chairman because he is a Roosevelt man. The Colonel does not seem to be willing to let the people rule at Chicago. He insists on being the whole show and proposes to boss the convention by naming its chairman himself. He has said he will write the platform and name the candidate, and that is all there is to it.

Senator Root has been named for temporary chairman in the same way and by the same committee which Roosevelt used at the last National convention. However, it happens to be against him this time and he will break up that precedent. Taft's managers are really afraid the Colonel is going to make rough house at the convention, but they might call the Colonel's bluff by announcing that they will be there when he begins his first attempt in the role of dictator.

Probably the Colonel wants to run a big bulff, but in Washington the breathings and threatenings of the third termer are taken seriously. Some of his friends take him that way, for one of his lieutenants on Monday scouted the idea that the committee of arrangements at Chicago would toltolerated a minute. "The committee on arrangements be d—d", he said. "It is packed and we will have none of it." The committee on arrangements consists of seven of the National Republican committee, and in resisting the old order of things Roosevelt and his backers seem to be willing to defy even party law. They declare that they are going to re-organize the committee before the National convention meets and make sure that it will be for Roosevelt when the convention is called to order.

The Roosevelt tactics are revolutionary, even if they should be conducted in the way that the West Virginia State committee was put out of business a few days ago. Taft had a majority of the committee, but the Roosevelt supporters increased the membership of the committee from 17 to 33, making it a Roosevelt committee. Rough house methods were used, and Adjutant General Charles Elliott justified it by declaring: "The people rule. Cromwell threw out a Parliament because it did not agree with him." That kind of talk and more like it indicates trouble if the Taft supporters intend to stand firm and refuse to be run over.

The Roosevelt scheme really is one in defiance of the courts. If he does not get his rights at Chicago, he can go into the courts and have them pass upon the legality of the convention. However, it seems that he is going to rely upon force instead of the courts. If it is attempted at Chicago and the Taft Republicans have the grit, the Chicago convention may furnish the country with a riot. At any rate, it is quite likely that both Taft and Roosevelt will be nominated for President.

REPUBLICANS ARE BITTER

The host of friends of the Hon. Chas. M. Stedman are rejoiced to know that he will have no opposition for the renomination for the House of Representatives by the Democrats of the Fifth District. The Congressional convention will meet in Greensboro today, and Major Stedman came on from Washington on Monday to be in attendance. The Greensboro Record voices his great popularity, when it says:

"If all the members of Congress stick to their work as close as Major Stedman, the representative from this district, there is very little running around. He rarely comes home and then only for a short time. He came in last night to remain until after the convention which will renominate him for another term. He should be kept there as long as he lives."

The Democracy would do honor to itself and the State to keep Major Stedman in Congress as long as he wants to stay there. He is a fine type of representative Southerner, and makes that impression on everybody at Washington. Major Stedman brings cheering Democratic news from Washington. He says a Democratic President is sure to be elected, whether Taft or Roosevelt is nominated at Chicago. The Record quotes the Major as saying:

"Republicans are encountered every day who declare positively they will not vote for Roosevelt if he is the nominee. I have talked with numbers of them and they are outspoken. Many of them have known him intimately for long years, but they are afraid of him. If Taft should be chosen, we can defeat him easily, for Roosevelt's friends absolutely will not support him. Our friends, the Republicans, are badly balled up this year; they have fought among themselves until the feeling is so tense nothing can save them from defeat. Many of the noted men of the party will tell you this is true; they are disgusted."

No doubt Major Stedman has accurately sized up the situation. We do not see how the Republicans could win with either Roosevelt or Taft. However, the feeling is growing strong in the party for the nomination of a dark horse. Hosts of Republicans do not propose to let two men destroy the party.

The servant problem is again bothering those of us who do not love to do our own work.

The attendance at the Republican primaries throughout the United States has been unusually small. This shows that the people do not want either Taft or Roosevelt for President. They are holding back for more rule of the people as it will come from the Democratic party and not from the Republican party, which all people with common sense know stands for the rule of special interests.

To denounce privilege and then give them the tariff protection that enables them to establish huge monopolies and prey on the people, is like scolding a boy for stealing the jam and setting out the open jar where he can help himself. If Roosevelt were in earnest in his pretension that he wants to remove the hand of monopoly from the throats of the people, he would strike a blow at the tariff system which taxes the people and makes monopoly inevitable.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is estimated that of the 1,018 delegates so far elected to the Republican National Convention 496 are for Taft, 416 are for Roosevelt, 36 are for LaFollette, 0 are for Cummins and 60 cannot be classified. There are also 60 still to be elected. Should Roosevelt get two-thirds of them and all the unclassified, he and Taft would tie at 516 each. In these or any similar circumstances LaFollette's 36 votes might well hold the balance of power in the convention. Most of them, too, come from his own State and are firmly under his control. Only his preposterous self-importance could make him believe that he himself stands the remotest chance of the nomination, but he might conceivably either decide the choice between Taft and Roosevelt or render possible the nomination of some outside man. There is no question that he would prefer Taft to Roosevelt and that he would act accordingly if he had—as he may have—the courage of his ambition for factional leadership and his spleen. Careful observers should keep an eye on LaFollette and his little band.—Charlotte Observer.

At the recent Democratic convention in Nashville, ex-Senator James B. Frazier delivered what many declare to have been the most splendid and inspiring political address ever made in Tennessee. Not only did he arouse the delegates to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, but he put the impress of practicability on the harmony scheme, and, as it were, drew the warring elements together with magnetic force.

As a result he became at once the logical candidate for Governor to redeem Tennessee from Republican control. Not only have the weekly papers with wonderful unanimity rallied to his support, but already one of his most dangerous opponents has withdrawn, declaring that he is only too glad to get out of the way and assist Senator Frazier. It is quite possible, indeed, that in the primary, the Senator will have no opposition at all. He will then go before the electorate with the solid support of all elements of the party, which will mean complete and decisive victory. It is a fine thing. At one time it looked bad for Tennessee. Even the success of the national Democratic ticket there was threatened. But apparently Senator Frazier has saved the day. Good luck to him. The party needed such a Moses.—Charleston News and Courier.

A survey of the leading newspapers of the North and East, since the Ohio primary, discloses wide diversity of opinian as to the course to take in relation to Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy. The Chicago Tribune believes that the results in many States have sufficiently revealed that he is the choice of the rank and file of the Republicans and leaves the inference to be drawn that he should be nominated and supported by the whole Republican party. The New York Evening Post, an honest and independent newspaper but traditionally and consistently the representative of capitalism and conservatism, by plain implication advises that the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt should be followed by the nomination of a candidate of the Conservative Republicans. "A Third Ticket is a good deal talked of," says The Evening Post, "in the event that the Republicans are called upon to do what Democrats thought would be their duty in 1896—that is, to sacrifice the election to save the party. That is certainly the spirit, the determination never to submi or yield, which should animae the men in the Republican party who are profoundly convinced that the Roosevelt programme means the breaking down of our established and tried form of government. There can be no truce in that war. If it is forced upon the country, it must be entered upon with the belief that no individual and no party can be placed above the safety of the nation." Unquestionably, this "talk of a third ticket" is the most interesting note of the campaign at the moment, and its significance is emphasized by the manner of its reception at the hands of newspapers friendly to Mr. Roosevelt.—Columbia State.

City's Health All Important Even for Financial Reasons.

Editor Star:—It was recently announced that the city government had decided that the amount of money asked for by the health department could not be given and that the work of this department necessarily must be curtailed at this time. It is not my intention to criticise the government of the city because it is my idea that they are honestly doing their best with a very trying and difficult situation, and further, it is a certain fact that the chief reason for any backwardness this city may have manifested along the line of development is directly due to the tendency of our people to criticise and find fault. We need more of the unanimity of action of our Charlotte friends to make this a second Atlanta. The object of this communication is to bring to the attention of the public generally the gravity of our present situation.

When a man wishes to move to Wilmington, or any other place for that matter, his first thought is to inquire if the health of his family will be projected in the new home. This information is readily obtained for him by his family physician and the replies acquaint that man with the real health situation much more accurately than the knowledge of local conditions is possessed by the residents of the place in question. For example, the man who moves here from Boston knows better than we do ourselves how many cases of typhoid fever we had last year and how effective our health department is and how much health protection he will have.

It is said that we are backward about advertising and in offering inducements to the outsiders in such things as the furnishing of factory sites and free wharfage. It is my desire to show that our great asset along the line of substantial advertisement would be the establishment of a record of being the best governed city from the health standpoint on the Atlantic coast. If it was known that the same efforts were being made here as were made to clean up Havana what would it mean to outsiders? It would mean that the most effective means of advertisement known was being put forward and the rest of our progress would take care of itself. Our Winter climate is more ideal than that of Florida and many in the North would gladly spend the cold months here on the coast if they were taught that we were safe and that their lives would be protected from disease. It would mean that many industries would seek us out. It would place us more prominently before the public more effectively than a century of the best advertising.

This can be readily brought about by a little more support and a little more encouragement of our efficient health department. There are only a few who know that our health department is doing more than any other health department in the State and already is ranking with the very best. It is a well known fact that Asheville has the best and most effective health department. If our health department is given half a chance they will eclipse Asheville within the year. Certainly it is the best organized department of the sort in the State and the time is just coming when the results will be shown us and we will be amazed to see what has been done in a short time. Let the interested citizen visit the office for himself and examine the graphic manner of keeping the records of every contagious or infectious disease in the city, as well as the location of every surface closet and every sewer mannole. There is a surprise awaiting the one sufficiently interested. I venture to say that there is not a business in the city being conducted in a more businesslike manner with more conservation of time and labor. The trouble is that our influential people have not the time to look into the matter. If they would take the time they would confer a great help to the community because they would at once become hearty supporters of the department and thereby help them in their object.

It is a well known fact outside of Wilmington that we have a live and efficient health officer in Dr. Nesbitt and already he is being recognized nationally. The best advertisement our city ever had was a reference to his work in the World's Work some time ago. It did much more good than all the fairs and other popular advertisement. In a forthcoming publication of great influence our health officer plays a prominent part in giving to the world the benefit of what he has done for Wilmintgon, and doubtless the world will better appreciate his efforts than we do who are reaping the benefits. Fellow citizens, will we support this man, or will we let him go to one of these more progressive communities where he can be appreciated and where he will not have to expend half of his energy in combating ignorance and superstition when all his magnificent efforts should be directed to the technical work of his office? Will the intelligent business people fail to grasp the most effective method of general advertisement and let the town continue to follow the lines of the past when all around us our neighbors are awakening to the fact that the conservation of human life is the greatest type of conservation?

We have been told that we are much more alive to the necessity of conservation of our forests and lower animals than we are to human life. Shame on us! It is a matter of record that the infant of the foreigner in the slums of New York is better protected than the infant of the South, where fresh air and the opportunities for good hygiene cost nothing. The death rate among infants in New York is lower by over 50 per cent. than the death rate of one of our sister coast cities of the South. This is all unnecessary and is the simplest thing in health problems to correct. If our death rate among infants should be reduced by 50 or more per cent. Mr. Business Man, would this not help your business by helping the city? It can be done at small cost by the present administration if the proper support is given to the department.

Let us look at this great opportunity and grasp it now at this critical time of our development. Let us give of our means, according to the example of that wise man, Mr. Gore, and protect our homes and loved ones. Let us, at least, be good citizens and support the efforts being set forth in our midst to make this the healthiest city in the South with the lowest death rate and no tuberculosis. It is up to us, Fellow Citizens, if we have sickness it is our individual fault. If we support our health department in less than two years we will be as clean and hygienic as Havana, the health object lesson of the world.

FROM COMRADE IN RANKS.

Maxton, N. C., May 27, 1912.

To the Editor of the Morning Star,
Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I have just read with a sorrowing heart of the death of that good man of your city, Col. John D. Taylor, and as a private soldier under his command during the Civil War, and one of the survivors of the Bentonville battle, where he lost his arm. I want to add my testimony to his worth, as a brave and good man. As a soldier the bravery that he exhibited at Bentonville, Kinston and Fort Anderson, I don't think could be exceeded. As a man I want to say, what can be said of but few, there was not a man under his command that did not love him, both privates and officers; they loved him because he loved them. He had that in his nature which caused men to love him, he had that in his nature which caused men to respect him, he lived long, he lived well, and I know that the world is better by his having lived in it.

CARD FROM MR. BLUE

Editor Morning Star:—In your issue of May 26th, under the heading "Conventions Held in Many Counties," I notice a report from Bladen county saying that the convention was overwhelmingly for Senator Simmons.

If this is true it was because what few friends Senator Simmons has in the county held that convention, while Governor Kitchin's friends stayed at home.

We who are going to vote for Governor Kitchin did not know that they were going up there to test the strength of the Senatorial candidates or we would have been there, but inasmuch as there is to be a primary to settle this fight we are all willing to "Bide our time," and on the day of the primary we will surprise both Senator Simmons and his over-zealous supporters in this county.

THE INLAND WATERWAY.

Editor Star:—I have been for some time wondering why the Wilmington people haven't urged Congress to appropriate funds and rush through the inland waterway from New River to the Cape Fear. Newbern is getting quite some business from here by the inland waterway and lower freight rates by boat. The attention of the Chamber of Commerce should be called to this matter.

Very respectfully,
O. F. JUSTICE.

CASE GOES TO REFERENCE

No Jury Trial Yet in Case of W. E. Worth vs. Knickerbocker Trust Co.—Bryan Case Will Come Up This Morning.

Although it was thought for a while yesterday that the case of W. E. Worth vs. the Knickerbacker Trust Company, growing out of the failure of the Rockingham Power Co., which has been in the courts for a number of years, would be tried, the defendant, late in the afternoon, succeeded in getting favorable action by Judge Allen on a motion that certain phases of the case be inquired into by a referee, who is to report his findings to the court. W. P. Stacy, Esq., was named as referee.

Mr. Worth is suing the Knickerbocker Trust Co., for the amount he paid into the Rockingham Power Co., financed by the defendant company, and also for damages, alleging fraud, etc. Mr. Worth paid into the company some $9,000 before it failed, but, it is contended, had bargained for $45,000 worth of stock. In the Federal Court Mr. Worth was sued by the Knickerbocker Trust Co., and others for the difference between the amount of stock alleged to have been bought by him and the actual amount paid for, the defendant obtaining a judgment for over $30,000 with interest. Executions were issued and property said to belong to Mr. Worth was levied upon. Some of the property is to be sold in the near future, it is said. On the other hand, Mr. Worth claims that he is insolvent and it seemed to be conceded that the plaintiff in the Federal Court action has failed to find sufficient property to satisfy the judgment.

When the Worth case was called in Superior Court yesterday George Rountree, Esq., asked that it not be taken up until today on the ground that his firm, Messrs. Rountree & Carr, had but recently become connected with the case. The request to defer hearing was not granted. Appearing for the Knickerbocker Trust Co., besides the firm mentioned, are Thos. W. Davis, Esq., of Wilmington, and Julien T. Davies, of New York City. Mr. Worth is represented by Hon. John D. Bellamy and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan.

The defendant asked for a reference and this was resisted by the plaintiff on the ground that it was entitled to an immediate trial of the case. However, Judge Allen decided to grant the motion for reference as stated. Then the attorneys for the plaintiff lodged a motion that the court grant an injunction restraining the defendant company from further prosecution of his action in Federal Court until this action has been tried, especially as to the disposal of any property that may have been levied upon. Judge Allen said that he would hear this motion at some time during the term. Mr. Davis asked that the plaintiff, Mr. Worth, be required to give an additional bond of $750 in the case, the bond now required being only $750. Judge Allen said that he would consider this motion at the time he heard the injunction matter.

The case of Eddie M. Bryan vs. the Hilton Lumber Co., was next called for trial. It was late in the afternoon and it was decided to wait until this morning before taking it up. Counsel for the defendant company intimated that they would not be ready for trial on account of the absence of three witnesses, but counsel for the plaintiff will insist that the case be heard at this time. The case has been to Supreme Court. The defenadant was awarded damages in the sum of $7,600. The Supreme Court granted a new trial. John D. Bellamy & Son and Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., appear for the plaintiff, while Davis & Davis and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan represent the defendant company.

The case of Leger Meyer vs. S. L. Smith, et al., was continued. Phil G. Kelly Co., Inc., was given judgment against O. E. Merritt for $245 and interest from April 15th, 1911. Mary J. Faircloth was granted a divorce from Mack Faircloth. In the case of Schiller & Cohen vs. Solomon & Dworsky judgment was given for $213.89 with interest from December 3rd, 1906.

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Over 600 Children and Young People Enjoyed Outing Yesterday

The most largely attended of the annual Sunday school picnics this season was that yesterday when about 625 members of the Sunday schools of Brooklyn Baptist and Southside Baptist churches enjoyed a pleasant outing on Wrightsville Beach as the guests of the Tidewater Power Company. In charge of Messrs. F. J. Garrison and J. H. Curtis, the superintendents of the two schools, the party left the city at 3 o'clock in six cars. All enjoyed the afternoon at the resort and thoroughly appreciated the courtesy of the Tidewater Power Company in making possible so pleasant an outing. On the return trip the cars reached the city at 7:05 o'clock.

Friday the members of the First Baptist church will have their outing at the beach. Cars will leave Front and Princess streets at 11:30 o'clock. Mr. Geo. Leftwich, the superintendent, will be in charge and about 800 are expected to be in the party.

Joint Meeting of Boards

A joint meeting of the Boards of Commissioners of New Hanover and Pender counties will be held at the Court House here tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. It is presumed that the meeting is for the purpose of making the final arrangements preparatory to beginning work on the bridge over the Northeast river between the two counties, as the controversy over the proposed site at Hungry Neck has been settled by the approval of the United States War Department of the selected site. The Virginia Bridge & Iron Company, of Roanoke, has the contract for the erection of the structure.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Letitia Adams Bride of Mr. June L. Bolton—Will Live Here

An unusually pretty home wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bennett, No. 409 South Sixth street, when Mrs. Bennett's sister, Miss Letitia Adams, became the bride of Mr. June L. Bolton, of this city. Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, officiating.

The home was prettily decorated in ferns, lilies and Southern smilax, and the charming ceremony was witnessed by a large number of invited friends and relatives. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. N. Bennett. Miss Mamie Williams was maid of honor and Dr. L. C. Adams, a brother of the bride, was best man. Misses Hazel Fleet and Varina Yopp were bridesmaids and the groomsmen were Messrs. E. A. Palmgren and W. T. Wilkinson. Miss Camille Fleet presided at the piano and rendered the Wedding March.

The bride was attired in a handsome creation of white silk Marquisette over white messaline and carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor wore lingerie and carried pink roses. Miss Fleet was dressed in yellow messaline and carried Killarney roses, while Miss Yopp wore blue messaline and carried white roses.

Mr. John J. Fowler, Jr., was master of ceremonies. A reception followed the ceremony. Refreshments were served by Misses Ida Fleet, Elizabeth Gardner, Ida May Jackson and Katherine Nurnberger, all dressed in white.

The bride performed a very beautiful and fouching act when she sent her bridal bouquet to High Point by express, to be placed on the grave of her mother, who died only about eight months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolton left on the 7 o'clock train for Washington, D. C., and points of interest in Maryland and Philadelphia. They will be gone about 10 days and on their return will be at home to friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bennett, No. 409 South Sixth street.

Mr. Bolton is a well-known young business man while his bride is a beautiful and attractive young woman. Both have many friends who will wish for them all happiness in their wedded life.

BEER BOTTLES USED.

Two Men and a Woman Involved in Affray—All Arrested.

Following an altercation over a sum of money, it is said, Henry A. Wren, a white man, was cut over the head in several places by blows from a beer bottle yesterday morning at the home of Ida Davis, a woman of questionable character, who lives at 113 North 12th street. The Davis woman and J. S. Wells, another white man, were arrested on charges of assault with deadly weapons, and after he had been taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital and had his wounds dressed, Wren was arrested on a charge of forcible trespass. Later an additional warrant charging him with violating the prohibition law, was served on him. Wren is being held at the City Hall, while the Davis woman and Wells have up $50 bond each for their appearance in the Recorder's court.

According to the details gathered by the police Wren claims to have given the woman a $10 bill and told her to get him a hack. She went out and got the hack, and he says that she defrauded him of $9 in the transaction. He objected strenuously and declares that she and Wells put him out of the house. He then entered again and the man and woman took beer bottles and beat him over the head. He was cut in several places and was sent to the hospital where his wounds were dressed. The Davis woman and Wells were arrested and the woman swore out a warrant charging Wren with forcible trespass. He was arrested on this charge, and an additional warrant charging violation of the prohibition law was served on him. The warrant alleges that he sold whiskey to E. Edmonds.

Interest in Revival Meetings

Interest continues to grow in the revival meetings at Fifth Street Methodist church and each night large congregations are hearing the sermons preached by Rev. Raymond Browning, who is assisting Rev. G. T. Adams, the pastor. A very large congregation attended last night, when Mr. Browning preached a powerful and persuasive sermon on "Prayer." The sermon was heard with deep interest by all and produced a profound impression. Services are held each night at 8 o'clock and a cordial invitation to attend is extended the public.

Boys Found Lost Box.

Three boys, Clyde Lassell, Mike Newman and A. Schultz, playing at Seventh and Princess streets last evening, found an oak box on a pile of brick there. They broke it open and found that it contained a number of papers and several pieces of jewelry. The boys turned it over to the police station, and as the papers indicated that it was the property of Mrs. Mary J. Dunn, Chief Fowler made inquiry and found that it had been lost from a van of Mrs. Dunn's household goods, which were being moved to the beach.

Baseball at Hilton Park.

On the diamond at Hilton Park this afternoon the baseball teams of the First Presbyterian Church and St. James' Episcopal Church will meet to contest for honors. In fact, the game will probably decide which of the teams is the champion for the season. The teams have been running close together all the season and it is said that they are even now. There is no admission and it is expected that a large number will witness the game.

W. Kitchin to the graduatng class and the awardng of diplomas, medals and scholarships. The exercises bring to a formal close one of the most successful year's work in the history of the city.

Today the exhibits of school work in the various rooms will be made in the Hemenway and the Union schools, and again tomorrow at both schools. Friday the exhibition will continue at the Union school. These exhibits have been a prominent feature at the closings for several years and it is said that the public schools of no other city in the State can compare with those of the local schools. The exhibts consist of specimens of handwriting, problems in mathematics, drawings, maps, etc., and they are said to be even better this year than heretofore. Mr. John J. Blair, city superintendent of schools, Prof. Heman Shaw, principal of the High School; Prof. O. A. Hamilton, principal at Hemenway, and Miss Mary E. Cook, principal at the Union school, and the teachers under them, all have just cause to feel proud of the showing made in the schools this year, and one and all they deserve full credit for the excellent results accomplished.

Tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock the commencement exercises by the primary students of the Hemenway school will be held, and Friday evening at the same hour the school will be assembled and promotion cards distributed. The closing entertainment at the Union school will be held Friday evening at 9 o'clock, features of which will be a Japanese reception by the pupils of the third grade and a "Red Riding Hood Drill" by pupils of the fifth grade.

At the High School Friday evening at 9 o'clock the alumni will give a reception to the class of 1912 at the school building.

The commencement exercises proper will be held Saturday night, at which time Governor Kitchin will be present to deliver the address to the graduating class. Diplomas and medals will be presented at that time and the award of scholarships will also be made.

In the Colored Schools.

The closing exercises at the Peabody and the Williston schools, the colored institutions of the city, will begin today. At the Williston at 9:30 there will be exercises by the primary grades, at 11 A. M., by the intermediate grades, and from 12 to 2 o'clock P. M., the inspection of sewing rooms and workshop in rooms one and eight. At the Peabody today will be parents visiting day, and the exhibits of school work in dressmaking, sewing, etc., will be displayed. At 10:30 A. M., the primary grades will give their entertainment. Tomorrow at 11:30 A. M., the final exercises at the Peabody will be held, at which time there will be recitations and songs by the advanced classes. Certificates will be awarded.

Friday evening at 8:30 the closing exercises of the Williston school will be held at Ruth Hall, Seventh and Nun streets. An industrial play, "The Negro in America From 1619 to 1912," will be given. Certificates will be awarded and there will be other features.

GRAND PIANO AT LUMINA

Music Will Be Feature at Wrightsville Beach This Season

It will be a matter of great interest to those who enjoy the dances and concerts at Lumina to learn that a concert Grand piano has been purchased by the Tidewater Power Company for the use of the orchestra. The piano is of the Stieff make and was sold to the company by the local agent for the Stieff Company, Mr. S. R. Coley. The piano has arrived and has already been placed in position at Lumina, and so will be ready for the opening of the season which takes place Saturday night.

The piano which is a very handsome one, being of dark oak finish, will prove a great addition to the orchestra. The dances and the concerts form one of Lumina's principal attractions, and the company decided that the orchestra should be provided with only the best of instruments, and hence a Grand piano was purchased.

A Grand piano is, of course, much superior to the other style. The horizontal position of the sounding board imparts a quality to the tone that cannot possibly be obtained with an upright sounding board. Besides that, the strings in a Grand piano, especially in a full-size piano such as this one is, being fully three feet longer than the strings in the largest of the uprights, a much greater volume of sound is obtained which is in itself an immense advantage in the large hall at Lumina.

Mr. Kneisel, the leader of the orchestra, says that he has the best orchestra this season that has ever performed at Lumina. With such a fine orchestra and the magnificent piano the musical entertainment at the beach this season will be of a very high order.

Mr. O. C. Foard who plays the piano in the orchestra is said to be a player of exceptional ability.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Carsons Cases Tried Yesterday—Judgment Reserved—Other Matters.

In the Recorder's court yesterday W. J. and A. Carson, two brothers who were arrested in Petersburg, Va., several days ago on charges from this city of moving mortgaged property, were tried, but Recorder Furlong reserved judgment until tomorrow. An additional charge against A. Carson, involving the alleged disposal of a desk upon which Mr. Chas. C. Hopkins claimed to have had a mortgage, was heard and the defendant was declared not guilty.

The joint case charged the two brothers with purchasing a second hand automobile from Mr. J. O. Brock and giving him their notes for the machine. It was alleged that they left the city before the first note came due, taking the automobile with them. As readers of The Star will recall, they were arrested in Petersburg, on advices from Chief of Police John J. Fowler, of this city, and were brought back by Deputy Sheriff John H. Davis. They have been in jail since that time.

W. P. Gafford, Esq., represented the defendants, while Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau prosecuted.

Sanders Lee Jones and Brock Gary, colored, were fined $5 and costs each for crap shooting. Oliver James, another negro, was found not guilty on a charge of gambling. Henry Armstrong, colored, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon his better half, was let off on the payment of costs.

Messrs. T. E. Koontz and H. E. Beane, charged with participating in an affray in which a deadly weapon was used and serious injury inflicted, were in court. Their case was continued pending developments in the condition of R. Crosby, the negro who was hit in the head with a hammer by Mr. Beane Monday afternoon. Mr. Koontz was out on $500 bond and yesterday Mr. Beane was released on $1,000 bond with Mr. L. E. Hall as surety.

ABANDON DISPOSAL PLANT.

Health Department Secures Tract of Land East of the City.

The threat of citizens owning property in that vicinity to secure an injunction against the city to prevent it from the use of the disposal plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, caused the city health department to make arrangements for a tract of land a mile or two east of the city on which the city refuse will be dumped, beginning tonight, until other arrangements can be made. It was the sanitary cans which were emptied into the disposal plant, the refuse from the ordinary closets being deposited elsewhere. Owing to the great distance from the city it is said that teams can make but one trip a night from the city to the "dumping ground," whereas two and three trips are made now to the disposal plant, therefore, Councilman B. C. Moore, of the Department of Public Safety, will ask for additional teams. It is hoped that an incinerator or reduction plant may be installed some time in the near future, which would do away entirely with the long haul, but for the immediate future the health department will have to make the best arrangements possible.

Pritchard Memorial Excursion.

Yesterday's Charlotte News says: "The Pritchard Memorial Baptist church will operate an excursion to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach on June 26th, the return to be made on the 27th. This church runs an excursion to the coast almost every Summer, being usually among the first to make announcement of such an event. The management has always taken great care to provide for the comfort and enjoyment of the people who make this trip and it has always been one of the most popular of the many excursions that leave Charlotte for different points during the Summer."

Pays Visit to His Son

J. Quinfus Cohen, Esq., a prominent attorney of New York city, spent Monday and yesterday here as a guest of his son, Mr. J. W. Cohen, of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city. Mr. Cohen had been to Charleston, S. C., to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Marie Young Cohen. Mr. Cohen was formerly Mayor of Birmingham, Ala., and was one of the leading persons who brought out Underwood for Congress the first time. Mr. Cohen is a strong Underwood supporter.

FLOYD ALLEN TESTIFIES.

Takes Stand in Defense of His Son, Claude.

Wytheville, Va., May 28.—"If it hadn't a'been for Dexter Goad I'd a'gone with the sheriff," such was the declaration of Floyd Allen, convicted member of the band which shot up Carroll county court when he took the witness stand today in defense of his younger son, Claude, who is charged with firing the shot which killed Judge Thornton L. Massie. Floyd said he saw Clerk Goad wink at the sheriff and that then Goad drew his revolver. It was this, he said, that made him exclaim, "I'm not a'going."

Victor Allen, brother of the defendant, followed his father and testified that he heard the first shot and that it was fired from the corner of the room in which Goad was standing. He admitted bringing a revolver to Hillsville, but said Claude took it and that he himself was unarmed at the time of the shooting.

Ten other witnesses were today examined by the defense in an effort to break down the State's evidence of a conspiracy.

WILSON IN CONTROL.

Texas Convention in Hands of the Governor's Friends.

Houston, Texas, May 28.—A solid delegation of 40 members instructed for Woodrow Wilson was elected to the National Democratic Convention tonight by the Texas Democratic Convention. The delegation is composed of eight delegates at large and 32 district delegates. The Harmon forces made one test of strength on district delegates and were defeated 542 to 156. Cato Sells, of Cleburne, was elected Democratic National committeeman.

The convention adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The following are the delegates at large:

Cone Johnson, T. W. Gregory, C. A. Culberson, L. H. Ball, M. M. Crane, Marshall Hicks, Tom Campbell and A. L. Henry.

Houston, Tex., May 28.—Demonstrating what its members call a real political upheaval in Texas, the Woodrow Wilson majority in the State Democratic Presidential Convention here here today took complete control of the convention. At 6 o'clock the Wilson caucus slate for permanent organization was adopted and recess taken until 8 o'clock, when the programme was the election of 40 delegates to the baltimore convention—32 district delegates and eight delegates at large—and the adoption of a platform, the most notable fact being the absence of any fight to put forward the known policies of United States Senator J. W. Bailey, whose friends and opponents for years have waged the State's bitterest political contests over the Senator's political principles. Senator Bailey campaigned in part of Texas, opposing Mr. Wilson before the conventions in which Wilson won.

The personnel of the sub-committee to draft a platform and resolutions announced tonight just before recess was composed entirely of men known as opponents of Senator Bailey.

This sub-committee furthermore was composed entirely of Wilson men.

The prospects were for a long session tonight, owing to the great amount of detail work yet before the convention.

YOUNG PHYSICIAN STABBED.

Dr. Fred Misenheimer Has Only Slight Chance of Recovery.

Charlotte, N. C., May 28.—The condition of Dr. Fred Misenheimer, who was stabbed by Claude Blackwell, of Kershaw, S. C., at the Buford Hotel Saturday, is still desperate. No hope has been entertained for his life since Sunday. His pulse is very high, also his temperature. It is feared that pneumonia has developed, and that he has had internal hemorrhages. He is conscious at times. His recovery would be almost a miracle.

Blackwell, who admitted stabbing Misenheimer, was removed late yesterday afternoon from the tombs to the county jail.

George B. Skipper and W. S. Langley, who were held in the case, but who were released on $250 bail each, yesterday morning, were re-arrested last night and their bond increased to $1,000. They left today for Lancaster.

Blackwell's one thought has been of his mother. He said yesterday in the tombs after stating that he had stabbed Misenheimer in self defense that he hated it on account of the distress "to my mother."

Mrs. Misenheimer, mother of the stricken man, is still confined to bed. She has not been able to see her son.

FIGHT EXPECTED TODAY.

Tom Watson Will Raise Rucus at the Georgia Convention.

Atlanta, Ga., May 28.—What promises to be the most exciting Democratic State Convention held in Georgia in years will convene here tomorrow at noon for the selection of delegates to Baltimore.

Supporters of Thomas E. Watson will make an effort to secure control of the convention as soon as it is called to order by States Chairman W. C. Wright. Mr. Watson, who holds a proxy, announced tonight that he himself would nominate John W. Moore, of Atlanta, for temporary chairman, although it has been generally understood that the leaders had selected G. R. Hutchens, who conducted the Underwood campaign in this State, for both the temporary and the permanent chairmanship.

Mr. Watson held his widely advertised meeting today in the ball room of the Kimball House and outlined his plan for blocking any effort to put through a slate.

"I didn't come here to start a row," he shouted, "and it won't be my fault if this convention is not a love feast. But I am not going to allow a few men to get behind locked doors and run things." He proposed that his supporters should oppose the appointment of any committees and that they should fight to have the convention itself, in committee of the whole, pass upon all credentials, make the rules of procedure and draft its platform. A resolution to carry this plan into effect was adopted. The hall was packed to such an extent that great confusion reigned throughout the meeting.

The meeting also passed a resolution endorsing Mr. Watson for delegate at large, and another favoring the election of delegates individually immediately after the convention was organized.

"I am going to Baltimore to lock horns with William J. Bryan and I don't care who knows it," declared Mr. Watson. "It is time we had a Southern leader for Southern men."

Mr. Watson did not mention the name of Thomas B. Felder, to whom he previously had announced opposition for delegate at large. Earlier in the evening, however, he had reiterated his opposition to Mr. Felder in a public statement. The big fight is expected if he carries this opposition to the floor of the convention.

The convention is expected to select eight delegates at large with half a vote each. It is said that the leaders, against whom Mr. Watson is making his fight for control, have agreed upon the following for seven of the places:

J. Randolph Anderson, of Savannah; Crawford Wheatley, Americus; Thos. B. Felder, Atlanta; Charles R. Pendleton, Macon; H. H. Dean, Gainesville; G. R. Hutchens, Rome, and W. G. Brantley, Brunswick. In event Mr. Watson persists in his fight for control indications tonight were that these leaders would favor the selection of T. W. Loyless, of Augusta, in preference to Mr. Watson.

Several of the district delegations held conferences today and chose delegates to Baltimore. The others will meet for similar action prior to the convention.

Carrying out the wishes of the voters expressed in the recent Presidential primary, the Georgia delegation will go to Baltimore bearing instructions for Underwood.

Dallas, Texas, May 28.—Returning here today from their 1,000-mile swing through the center of Texas, members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America wound up their annual convention. From here they departed for their homes throughout the United States and Canada.

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—With recent legal complications which have beset league baseball in Nashville cleared away, the fans will this afternoon once more have a game, after a lapse of three weeks. Nashville and New Orleans are the contesting teams.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Regular mid-week prayer meeting services at Immanuel Presbyterian Church tonight. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

—Joe Johnson, porter at The American National Bank, asked that it be stated that he was not the "Joe Johnson" who was fined in the Recorder's court Tuesday for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

—Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, had a pleasant surprise Sunday night when a delegation of members of the local Red Men lodges attended the services. Mr. Crowley desires to express his appreciation to the Red Men.

—The firemen were called out yesterday morning in response to an alarm from box 211 on account of a small blaze in the office of Dr. T. B. Carroll, on North Second street, near Princess, caused by an alcohol lamp overturning. There was no damage.

—R. Crosby, the negro who suffered a fractured skull from a blow from a hammer in the hands of Mr. H. E. Beane Monday afternoon, was reported to be resting very well at the James Walker Memorial Hospital last night. His condition is considered very favorable to recovery.

—Officers and members of Cape Fear Tent, No. 15, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, are requested to be present tonight at 8 o'clock at the regular meeting in Knights of Pythias Hall, over Murchison National Bank. There is some very important business to be attended to and a full attendance is desired.

—Rebecca Murphy, colored, who lives at 1013 Wooster street, will be tried before Justice Bornemann Friday on a charge of assault with deadly weapon upon Lula B. Hill, whom, it is alleged, she struck with an iron pipe. The Hill woman had to go to the hospital, being sent there early yesterday morning by the magistrate.

—Mr. J. R. Willis, who arrived yesterday from Cincinnati, on a visit to his sister, Mrs. L. W. Malpass, who lives on South Fifth street, was unable to locate her and asks the assistance of friends to find her. Mr. Willis left parties of whom he inquired and who later located the address which he sought. If he will inquire at 414 Queen street, he will be directed to the proper address.

—The regular monthly meeting of the City Council will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was said at the Mayor's office yesterday that nothing of any special interest is scheduled to come up this afternoon. It is not improbable that members will vote to hold the meetings earlier during the Summer months, 2:30 or 3 o'clock having been suggested. This would give ample time to transact the business of the week and allow the Councilmen so disposed to go to the beach for a dip in the surf before night.

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED

Tornado Sweeps Through Village of Skiatook, Oklahoma

Tulsa, Okla., May 28.—Seven persons were killed, three were probably fatally injured and a score or more were less seriously hurt when a tornado swept through the village of Skiatook, 18 miles northwest of Tulsa and the neighboring farming lands and oil fields last night. A beautiful story of the War Between the States in which Federal and Confederate troops for the once unite in a common cause under a flag of truce is told in moving pictures in a splendid Kalem film that will feature the bill at The Grand Theatre today.

The picture is founded upon an incident of the war. Tom Deans, a young Northener without means, falls in love with the daughter of a rich Southern planter, who will not countenance the match on account of his sentiments. The war breaks out, Deans joins the Union army and three years pass. Deans is finally ordered to the country of his lost sweetheart and finds the ancestral home burned and the planter and his daughter surrounded in a negro cabin and endangered by bushwhackers of both armies. Deans is captain and a flag of truce is arranged between Confederate and Federal troops who come together, route the bushwhackers and save the Southerner and his beautiful daughter.

Another topliner is "Way of a Man With a Maid," a lesson in love-making that is worth two of the ordinary kind. It shows two ways. This man's way was a good way either way. It is a Vitagraph that is bound to please.

In addition to these two there is a third film that is equally as good and the music by the orchestra will make a fine hour's entertainment.

Oil King is Asked if Standard Oil Co., Was Really Dissolved.

New York, May 28.—John D. Rockefeller, retired head of the dissolved Standard Oil Company, was placed on the witness stand here today to tell whether he believed the company had been really dissolved under the decree of the United States Supreme Court.

The aged millionaire could not be induced at all times to give direct answers to questions, but made indignant denial of all suggestions that there had been any effort to evade the decree of the court.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared as a witness in the action brought nominally by the State of Missouri to compel the inspectors of the election of the stockholders of the Waters Pierce Oil Company, at St. Louis, last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests which had named Standard Oil men as officials of the company. The inspectors refused on the ground that to do so would violate the dissolution decree of the Supreme Court of the United States, and of the decision of the Missouri Supreme Court ousting the Standard Oil Company of Indiana from the former State.

The Waters-Pierce interests alleged in fighting to prevent the Standard Oil representatives from gaining control of the company that the manner in which the Standard Oil interests had observed the decree of the United States court was "farcical".

"Did you ever have a discussion with John D. Archbold as to how these subsidiaries should be 'cut loose and still held tight'?" queried the Waters-Pierce attorney.

"There never was any thought of cutting loose and holding tight," Mr. Rockefeller almost shouted. "I happen to know about that."

"Mr. Rockefeller had previously made the statement he had never read the United States Supreme Court decree, although he knew about it "in a general way."

Mr. Untermyer had the utmost difficulty throughout the examination to get him to answer questions "yes" or "no."

Both Mr. Untermyer and Commissioner Jacobs found frequent occasion to object to the "prompting" of Geo. W. Murray, Mr. Rockefeller's personal counsel. Mr. Untermyer drove hard at Mr. Rockefeller to get him to explain the plan adopted for dissolution of the Standard Oil Company and how it was that the "old company" named the directors and officers of the segregated constituent companies.

After declaring that he had given the organization of the companies no attention and that he had turned his Waters-Pierce holdings over to "the gentlemen in charge of the re-organization because they knew best what to do," Mr. Rockefeller, who had been talking in a gentle, well modulated voice, was asked the question as to whether he had discussed a plan to "cut loose and hold tight." It was here that he brought his fist down on the table to emphasize his indignant denial.

"The matter of these reorganizations is something I have given no attention to at all," he added.

"Then how do you know whether it is being managed so as to cut loose and hold tight if, as you say, you don't know anything about it?" pursued Mr. Untermyer. "How do you know it, since you tell us now you don't know how it has been done?"

"I think you are making a mistake in representing what I undertook to say," replied the witness.

"You say you don't know how it was done. You tell us now you don't know how this disintegration was being done? Either you do know or you don't know how this is being done."

"I have nothing to do with that work at all."

"Do you know how it is being done? Yes or no."

"I don't know the particular steps taken in each case."

"Do you know how the business of the companies is being arranged?"

"I do."

OPPOSITION DEVELOPS.

Workers' Compensation Bill Has Rough Sledding in Committee.

Washington, May 28.—Unexpected, but determined opposition to the workmen's compensation bill, which recently passed the Senate, has developed in the House Judiciary Committee. Representative Brantley, of Georgia, author of the bill, appeared today to ask that a time be set to vote on the measure.

Representatives Hardwick, of Georgia; Henry, of Texas; Floyd, of Arkansas, and others objected. They said they wanted to be heard in opposition to the bill.

Representative Floyd said that he had received letters from railway labor organizations, protesting against the bill, together with statements that the officials of the union had forbidden the protests. The committee decided to thresh out the difficulty in executive session Saturday.

DOCTORS ENDORSE

Newbro's Herpicide

When a doctor endorses a preparation it means more than an ordinary testimonial. His opinion is always that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Dr. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn. says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M D., No. 2 Burrough Place, Cor. Hollis St., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp but brightens the hair, gives it life and makes it soft."

Dr. T. A. Moore, Duncan, Ariz., writes of his experience: "My scalp was in places covered by patches of dry, scaly material and the itching was incessant. Since using Herpicide all these evils have disappeared and my hair is soft, smooth and growing. Hair has grown on spots before but thinly covered."

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once.

Herpicide is for sale at Drug Stores and one dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at the leading barber shops. Be sure you get genuine Herpicide. Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

SMALL ADVANCE IN COTTON

The Market Recovered Part of Previous Day's Loss and Closed Steady at Net Advance of 7 To 11 Points

New York, May 28.—The cotton market recovered part of yesterday's loss during today's trading and closed steady at a net advance of 7@11 points.

The market opened steady, at unchanged prices to an advance of three points in response to rather better cables than looked for. Showers reported in the eastern belt were considered favorable, and the official forecasts of further showers in that section of the country, with lower temperature in the West received favorable comment, but the market continued to improve after the opening on covering of spots and moderate demand from trade sources. Slight recessions occurred from time to time, as favorable private crop advices reached the trade, or early buyers turned for profits, but the general tendency of the market was upward until in the afternoon active positions sold about 11 to 12 points above the closing figures of last night.

Realizing checked the advance at this level and subsequent fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but the close was within 2 or 3 points from the top. Reports that hot winds were damaging the crops in Texas and Oklahoma seemed to help the advance during the middle of the day, but apprehensions in this respect were relieved to some extent by the forecast for lower temperatures.

The weekly report of the Weather Bureau, read rather unfavorably as to conditions in the Western belt, but was favorable as to the bulk of the eastern belt, and was characterized by local traders as about a stand-off. Spot houses were considerable buyers during the day, leading to talk of an improved demand from spinners, and the advance was encouraged to some extent by reports of relatively steady Southern spot markets. Aside from the buying by spot interests, the demand was said to come chiefly from recent sellers, and the apparent disposition of shorts to take moderate profits was attributed partly to uncertainty that the official condition figures would be as high as the private report of yesterday, and the fact that Thursday will be holiday in the local market.

Receipts at all the ports today, 8,964 bales, against 10,129 last week, and 3,005 last year. For the week, 40,000 bales, against 46,773 last week, and 41,518 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 4,062, against 223 last year; at New Orleans, 1,842, against 1,746 last year.

Spot, quiet, 10 points up at the close; middling uplands, 11.50; do. gulf, 11.75; no sales.

Futures closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, May 28.—The jobbing markets were more active for the day, retailers buying more wash goods, white goods and domestics. In men's wear markets sales are being made of staple serges for Spring, 1913. Yarns rule steady, but quiet.

LITTLE ACTIVITY IN STOCKS

Yesterday's Market Was Even Duller And More Uninteresting Than That of the Day Previous —Favorable Weather

New York, May 28.—Today's session on the stock exchange differed from that of the preceding day only in the sense that it was duller and more uninteresting. The resumption of business in London and on the continent after the triple holiday was of little avail here; in fact, business in the foreign markets was no more active than here. Some of the matters to which Wall Street gave more or less consideration in the course of the day were the New Jersey Presidential primaries, a proposed far-reaching readjustment of Western freight rates, the refusal of the United States Circuit Court for this district to make permanent the temporary injunction recently granted the government restraining further sales of "valorized" coffee, yet another advance in copper, and the official weekly weather report. The latter was in some respects the most important development of the day, because it outlined a general condition decidedly more favorable than was entertained a fortnight ago. In the Northwest, particularly, are crops at their best, a fact that may explain some of the activity and strength shown by the Hill stocks.

The utter stagnation of the stock market may be gathered from the fact that in the second hour of the afternoon, just about 12,000 shares changed hands.

London was again under the spell of depression resulting from the strike of the dock hands, and fears respecting the outcome of the next settlement.

The local bond market was lower, with an irregular trend.

Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,014,000. United States government bonds were unchanged, on call. Total sales, 143,300 shares.

CONGRESS ACTS ON TITANIC DISASTER

persons, 12 being rescued from the water.

Officers of the White Star Line "battled with the truth" after receiving information from their Montreal office Monday morning following the accident.

Senator Smith condemned "antiquated shipping laws and overripe administrative boards" and asked that all nations act together in shipping reforms. "New laws," he said, "will best testify our affection for the dead."

Capt. Rostron, of the rescue ship Carpathia, was praised by Senator Smith and he urged that Congress recognize his valor.

At the outset, Senator Smith defended the course of his committee in holding British subjects to secure their testimony without delay, and briefly answered criticism of his lack of nautical knowledge.

"Our course was simple and plain—to gather the facts relating to this disaster while they were still vivid realities", he said. "Questions of diverse citizenship gave way to the universal desire for the simple truth. It was of paramount importance that we should act quickly to avoid jurisdictional confusion and organized opposition at home or abroad. We, of course, recognized that the ship was under a foreign flag; but the lives of many of our own countrymen had been sacrificed and the safety of many had been put in grave peril, and it was vital that the entire matter should be reviewed before an American tribunal if legislative action was to be taken for future guidance.

"Without any pretension to experience or special knowledge of nautical affairs, nevertheless, I am of the opinion that very few important facts which were susceptible of being known escaped our scrutiny. Energy is often more desirable than learning, and the inquisition serves a useful purpose to the State."

"In the construction of the Titanic" continued the Senator, "no limit of cost circumscribed their endeavor and when this vessel took its place at the head of the line every modern improvement in shipbuilding was supposed to have been realized; so confident were they that both owner and builder were eager to go upon the trial trip.

"When the crisis came a state of absolute unpreparedness stupefied both passengers and crew and, in their despair, the ship went down, carrying as needless a sacrifice of noble women and brave men as ever clustered about the Judgment Seat in any single moment of passing time.

"We shall leave to the honest judgment of England its painstaking chastisement of the British Board of Trade, to whose laxity of regulation and hasty inspection the world is largely indebted for this awful fatality. Of contributing causes there were very many. In the face of warning signals, speed was increased and messages of danger seemed to stimulate her to action rather than to persuade her to fear.

"The Titanic rushed onward on her true course—one recognized as appropriate and agreed upon by mariners as the international highway for westbound vessels, yet dangerous at this season of the year, when the Labrador current may be bearing vast masses of ice across the track of ships—scores of those towering glaciers planted themselves in the very pathway of this ship and were so large and so numerous that, in the absence of fog, they should have been easily discernible by the lookout, if, as he says in his testimony, he had been supplied with glasses.

"Capt. Smith knew the sea and his clear eye and steady hand had often guided his ship through dangerous paths; for 40 years storms sought in vain to vex him or menace his craft. His indifference to danger was one of the direct and contributing causes of this unnecessary tragedy, while his own willingness to die was the expiating evidence of his fitness to live; those of us who knew him well—not in anger, but in sorrow—file one specific charge against him, overconfidence and neglect to heed the oft-repeated warnings of his friends; but, in his horrible dismay, when his brain was afire with honest retribution, we can still see, in his manly bearing and his tender solicitude for the safety of women and little children, some traces of his lofty spirit.

"The mystery of his indifference to danger, when other and less pretentious vessels doubled their lookout or stopped their engines, finds no reasonable hypothesis in conjecture or speculation; science in shipbuilding was supposed to have attained perfection and to have spoken her last word; mastery of the ocean had at last been achieved; but overconfidence seems to have dulled the faculties usually so alert. With the atmosphere literally charged with warning signals and wireless messages registering their last appeal, the stokers in the engine room fed their fires with fresh fuel, registering in that dangerous place her fastest speed.

Nature gave a warning of approaching peril so significant that passengers in staterooms and steerage shut out the chill and spoke to one another of the sudden cold. Sailors off the Grand Banks know the importance of the thermometer, which is almost as necessary to their safety as is the compass. Even the quartermaster, Hichens, who regularly took the temperature of the water from the sea, said: 'It suddenly became bitter cold' and added that the first order received by him from Second Officer Lightoller at 8 o'clock Sunday evening was 'to take his compliments down to the ship's carpenter and inform him to look to his fresh water, that it was about to freeze'."

Senator Smith declared that the command of the officer of the watch to avert the disaster actually exposed the most vulnerable part of the Titanic to the ice when the shock came.

"Distracted by the sudden appearance of danger," said the speaker, "he sharply turned aside the prow, the part best prepared to resist collision, exposing the temple to the blow; at the turn of the bilge the steel encasement yielded to a glancing blow so slight that the impact was not felt in many parts of the ship, although representing an energy of more than a million foot tons, said to be the equivalent of the combined broadsides of 20 of the largest guns in our battleship fleet fired at the same moment, with a blow so deadly many of the passengers and crew did not even know of the collision until tardy advices of the danger by anxious friends, and even then official statements were clothed in such confident assurances of safety as to arouse no fear.

Senator Smith said that the awful force of the impact must have indicated to master and builder that the ship was doomed. He commented caustically upon the failure of the ship's officers immediately to give general alarm or to establish some orderly routine. Concerning the conduct of the ship's officers he said:

"Haphazard, they rushed by one another, on staircase and in hallway, while men of self control gathered here and there about the decks, helplessly staring at one another or giving encouragement to those less courageous than themselves. Lifebelts were finally adjusted to all and the lifeboats were cleared away, and although strangely insufficient in number, were only partially loaded and in all instances unprovided with compasses and only three of them had lamps. They were manned so badly that, in the absence of prompt relief, they would have fallen easy victims to the advancing ice floe, nearly 30 miles in width and rising 16 feet above the surface of the water. Their danger would have been as great as if they had remained on the deck of the broken hull, and if the sea had risen these toy targets with over 700 exhausted people would have been helplessly tossed about upon the waves without food or water.

"One witness swore that two of the three stewards in her boat admitted that they had never had an oar in their hands before and did not even know what the oarlock was for. The lifeboats were filled so indifferently and lowered so quickly that, according to the uncontradicted evidence, nearly 500 people were needlessly sacrificed to want of orderly discipline in loading the few that were provided. And yet it is said by some well-meaning persons that the best of discipline prevailed. If this is discipline, what would have been disorder?

"Among the passengers were many strong men who had been accustomed to command, whose lives had marked every avenue of endeavor, and whose business experience and literary training especially fitted them for such an emergency. These were rudely silenced and forbidden to speak, as was the president of this company, by junior officers, a few of whom, I regret to say, availed themselves of the first opportunity to leave the ship. Some of the men, to whom had been intrusted the care of passengers, never reported to their official stations, and quickly deserted the ship with a recklessness and indifference to the responsibilities of their positions as culpable and amazing as it is impossible to believe. And some of these men say they 'laid by' in their partially filled lifeboats and listened to the cries of distress 'until the noise quieted down' and surveyed from a safe distance the unselfish men and women and faithful fellow officers and seamen, whose heroism lightens up this tragedy and recalls the noblest traditions of the sea."

Senator Rayner Speaks on Report

Discussing the Titanic disaster in the Senate today, Senator Rayner, of Maryland, denounced the United States admiralty and navigation laws as "an incongruous collection of antiquated statutes, which should be repealed and re-enacted so as to meet the necessities of ocean intercourse of the present day." Senator Rayner dwelt at length on the "lesson of religious faith" that the country needs, "severe lessons that will strengthen the pillars and altars of its faith."

On this point the Senator said:

"We are to a large extent today defying the ordinances of God, and the sooner we awaken to a realizing sense of our responsibility the better it will be for the spiritual elevation of the country. We are running mad with the lust of wealth, and of power, and of ambition. We are separating society into casts, with fabulous fortunes upon the one side and destitution and poverty on the other. It takes a terrible warning to bring us back to our moorings and our senses. We are abandoning the devout and simple lives of our ancestors, and the fabric of our firesides is weakening at the foundation. If this disaster teaches no lesson or points no moral then let us pass it by with stoical indifference, until the next disaster comes, and in the meantime let the carnival go on. May the heart-rending scenes upon this night of anguish and of woe give us faith and lead us back to the altar of our fathers. I will not rehearse the agonies of this midnight sacrifice. I cannot afford to dwell upon them or listen to the details that almost distract the mind and break the heart. It is the lesson and the moral that I am searching for."

Senator Rayner urged legislation that would make the controlling officers of corporations criminally responsible for the careless and negligent management of the corporations they control. After a discussion of the present methods of corporation organization Senator Rayner said:

"There is another lesson that this disaster teaches us and which ought to be one of general application, and that is the lesson of corporate responsibility. We must enact legislation that will make the controlling and superior officers of corporations within our own negligent management of the public-service corporations which they control. I have made this suggestion over and over again, but I repeat it now in the most emphatic way that I can, that it is a shame and an outrage that the criminal statutes of this land permit the men who are really responsible absolutely to escape from the penalties of the law and inflict penalties and punishments upon those who are simply acting under their superior's orders."

Discussing the causes of the disaster, the Senator said:

"It seems to be universally conceded that this ship was not equipped with a sufficient number of lifeboats to provide for the safety of its passengers. There may have been a sufficient number in accordance with the rules of the British Board of Trade, but it is a conceded fact that the great loss of life occurred because there was an insufficient number to meet the necessities of the case and rescue the passengers and crew.

"The failure of foreign steamships to carry searchlights is utterly inexcusable, and if a proper searchlight had been upon this vessel, in my judgment, the accident could have been avoided. The failure to supply the proper officers with binoculars was unquestionably an act of negligence, especially as I gather from the testimony that a demand had been made by the proper officers for them and the demand had been refused.

"There was not the proper attention paid to the wireless messages that the ship received. This appears to me to have been an inexcusable act of negligence.

"The speed of the vessel was not lowered, as it should have been, when notice was received that she was in a dangerous zone. My own judgment, therefore, is that there was negligence in this case and that the disaster was attributable to the want of due care upon the part of the company and of those in charge of the ship. The proper tribunals will determine upon this question unaffected by any conclusion that we may arrive at in the premises."

CRAZED WITH COCAINE

Charlotte Negro Killed Wife and Shot Himself

Charlotte, N. C., May 28.—Robert Cureton, colored, this morning about 10 o'clock, shot and instantly killed his wife, Alice Cureton, at their home on Johnson street, and then turning his revolver upon himself fired two bullets into his chest. Cureton was taken to the hospital, where an examination revealed that the bullets had both been deflected by ribs and it was stated that he would recover.

The cause of the shooting is unknown. The first shot was fired in the home of the Curetons and no one knew anything of any quarrel or misconduct upon the part of either that would have caused trouble. After the first shot was fired the woman escaped from the house through the back and Cureton, looking for her, went out the front way and circled half a block, returning to an open space in the rear of his house, where he found his wife and shot at her two or three times more. Mr. T. C. Burgess, who was overseeing the laying of an interurban spur track in the vicinity, approached Cureton and called on him to let the woman alone. Cureton leveled his revolver and snapped it at Mr. Burgess. Cureton fired his pistol promiscuously two or three times and one bullet grazed the arm of a negress who was standing nearby. Mr. C. A. Stearns, another young white man, approached and Cureton threatened him, as he also did his cousin, Jeff Alexander, who appealed to him.

After being discovered and shot at the last time Alice Cureton fell, arose and stumbled across a small branch and fell again, dying instantly. Cureton followed her and standing beside her body fired two shots into his own body.

Those who saw the tragedy declare that Cureton was not drunk, but say that he acted wildly as if he had been drugged with cocaine.

MAKES BITTER ATTACK

Representative Heflin Assails Pennsylvania Industrial Conditions

Washington, May 28.—With a bitter attack on Pennsylvania industrial conditions, Representative Heflin, of Alabama, Democrat, today replied to Representative Focht, of Pennsylvania, Republican, who yesterday assailed Alabama and Georgia and their turpentine camps. Mr. Heflin referred to Mr. Focht's criticism as "contemptible." His references were so severe that they provoked replies from Representatives Palmer, Democrat, and Dalzell, Republican. The latter protested and called attention to the fact that Mr. Focht was not present. The speaker's gavel abruptly closed the incident.

Washington, May 28.—The Senate today rejected by 12 to 60 the Cummins substitute to the House Iron and Steel bill, which would have provided for free ores, except lead and zinc, and would have made heavy cuts on other schedules of the present tariff law.

An Unsafe Savings Bank.

An Ulster county farmer made a savings bank of the Summer kitchen stove during the Winter, and every spare one dollar or five dollar bill William got he stuffed into a tin box which he kept in the oven. When the hot weather finally came his wife concluded to start up the fire in this stove, with no suspicion of what might be in the oven. When she called her husband to breakfast and he discovered the hot stove he clawed the hot box out of the oven to find that his money was burned to a crisp.—Edmeston, N. Y., Local.

"White Crane"

is the name of a beautiful white bird. as also derives the name "WHITE CRANE" applied to the beautiful white flour, which makes it a pleasure for the housewife to say: "I thank you for the compliment, it is grand, and so easy to make with 'WHITE CRANE' flour.

My grocer recommends it—He keeps the best of everything. If yours don't, why call Telephones No. 256 or 1970, they will give you the names of those that do.

Don't forget to add "WHITE CRANE" flour on your order tday. It's the best.
